BOMBARDED TWICE BY ITALIAN FLEET

OPPORTUNITY TO SURRENDER

Ships Cease Firing to Give the Town a Chance to Surrender, But No White Flag Looms Into View.

Djerba, Tunis, Oct. 4.—Tripoli has been bombarded twice by the Italian fleet. The first shot was fired shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Shelling was resumed early this morning after a quiet night.

There was a steady but slow fire from the warships until dusk last evening and shots also came from the forts in the town. The French steamer Tafana took a delegation from Djerba to the scene of hostilities. Among the party was the French consul general, M. Leon, who made several ineffectual attempts to land. The Tafana was stopped about ten miles from Tripoli by a boat from the cruiser Varez, which ordered her to return, but she remained for more than an hour, even creeping in closer to the blockaded town.

The white buildings in Tripoli could be plainly seen and the whole field of operations was unfolded before the watchers. Officers of the Varez explained that the battle had been delayed because Admiral Aubrey, commander of the Italians, had received a request from the Tripoli garrison for another day's grace and gave the garrison an extra few hours. The battleship Benedittо and armored cruisers Giuseppe Garibaldi and Francesco Ferrucio drew up in line opposite the harbor. There were no small craft in the battle line, and the Varez stood off to keep back intruders. There was no sign of life in the city, which appeared deserted, but the Turkish flag flew from the castle and forts. The first shots were directed towards Charchatti fort and later Kerkerechre fort was shelled. As the first shells burst over Tripoli the garrison seemed to awaken, and returned the fire with vigor and energy. A heavy cannonade was kept up on both sides for a few minutes and then firing became desultory. So far as could be seen no warship was hit.

At 4 o'clock the ships were ordered to cease firing by the admiral, to permit the town to surrender, but no sign was given, and after a few minutes the ships began again. This time great havoc was wrought. Fortifications were razed, the forts suffered severely and the lighthouse to the northwest was destroyed by shells from the Garibaldi. There was no means of knowing what the loss of life was in Tripoli, but ample opportunity was given the defenders to escape.

When the Tafana left the scene no landing had been attempted by the Italians, and it was feared that during the night the town would be pillaged by Nomad Arabs, who had been hovering in the vicinity for some days.

Early this morning the first division of the Italian fleet under Admiral Faravelli, resumed the bombardment. The Turkish garrison occupied a position behind the first, and responded with a few shells, which fell short. The Italian commander endeavored to avoid damaging private dwellings, but some of them were destroyed, and the governor's palace and the three forts at the entrance of the port are in ruins. The consulates and churches have not been damaged.

The second division of the fleet, under Vice Admiral Thaon Di Revel, has approached close to Benghazi and Derna. A bombardment of these ports, it is understood, has been ordered to begin tomorrow. It is denied that any blue jackets will be landed in the immediate future. Such a landing may possibly be decided upon the arrival of the expeditionary corps.

Before commencing the bombardment of Tripoli the Italian squadron removed all mines and made a careful revision of the hydrographic chart, to insure safety to the coming transports. This operation lasted several days and probably explains the real reason for the delay in the bombardment.

Four Italian officers have come to Djerba and are proceeding overland toward Tripoli on a reconnoitering expedition, as the Arabs are expected to offer stubborn resistance to the occupation of the Vilayet.

Rome, Oct. 4.—The bombardment of Tripoli was resumed this morning with the object of completing the destruction of the batteries. Up to 6 o'clock this evening no official confirmation of the surrender of Tripoli could be obtained.

London, Oct. 4.—A Rome dispatch from Tripoli says it is believed that the garrison has suffered very heavy losses and that the governor is wounded. It appears that even after the demolition of the forts the Turkish gunners continued to serve such guns as were available. It became necessary for the warships to train their guns upon the ruins. Several private houses were destroyed by fire, but none was struck by shells. The town has been entirely deserted by the inhabitants.

Constantinople, Oct. 4.—Political difficulties within the capital are multiplying and it seems impossible to form a cabinet. Members of the committee from the Union and Progress

ROBBING THE FLOOD VICTIMS

Two Foreign Women Are Arrested When Discovered Looting Open A Trunk—Follow the Disastrous Flood.

Austin, Pa., October 4.—The first arrests for robbery following the disastrous flood of last Saturday were made today when two foreign women were caught by a State trooper prying open the lid of a trunk. The women are Mrs. Peter Shava and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Joseph Shava. The women when arrested appealed to State Senator Baldwin to intercede for them but he refused. They were taken to the county jail at Coudersport, Pa. Their home then was searched and furs and jewelry valued at $1,000 or more were recovered, many pieces being identified by the owners.

Joseph Shava, husband of the younger woman, is accused of participating in the thefts but has not been found.

The visit of Governor John K. Tener, the recovery of seven more bodies and the funerals of a number of other victims, coupled with a further development of the system of clearing the ruins and feeding the augmented force of workmen marked the day and was one of greatest of progress thus far in relieving the stricken town.

With the bodies recovered today, there are but thirty persons unaccouited for, according to the officials.

Six funerals were held today, five from the Swedish church, the only one left standing.

The caskets were placed side by side before the pulpit at one time and as one service was completed a minister of another denomination would succeed him for the next funeral. Each had its little group of mourners.

The Rev. E. E. Harter, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, read the simple service to flood victims as the bodies were buried.

CHALONER'S BUGHOUSE TALK.

He Tries to Convince Court That He's Able to Take Care of Fortune.

Charlottesville, Va., Oct. 4.—John Armstrong Chaloner spent two hours before United States Commissioner Booth again today, continuing the deposition begun yesterday in which he expects to demonstrate to the United States Circuit Court for Southern New York that he is sane and entitled to possession of the $1,500,000 held for him in New York by a committee.

Chaloner's statements today were quite as remarkable as those of yesterday. He insisted that his prediction or "trance utterance" of March, 1897 that he would develop a physical resemblance to Napoleon Bonaparte had actually been borne out. Photographs were introduced to support his assertions of a facial metamorphosis—that his eyes had changed from brown to gray,and his nose from straight to roman. He denounced ordinary clairvoyants as "fakirs" and declared that there were only two exceptions—himself and a young Parisian woman who foretold a calamitous fire known as Le Charite Bazaar, which occurred about 20 years ago and who also predicted the low ebb which English poetry would reach.

It was this "trance utterance" that was largely responsible for the imprisonment of Chaloner in the Bloomingdale, N. Y., asylum from which he escaped. By proving that his prediction has been fulfilled he hopes to rid himself of the New York judgment against his sanity and thereby gain the right to enter his native State a free man and at the same time recover control of his estate.

Chaloner's suit against the committee probably will be reached about January 1st. The depositions now being taken will be introduced then.

FOR FREIGHT TARIFF BOARD

National Paint, Oil and Varnish Association Agrees on Its Creation

Richmond, Va., October 4.—The National Paint, Oil and Varnish Association, in annual convehtion here today agreed on the creation of a freight tariff board and instructed its president to appoint the proposed three members of the board before the present convention adjourns.

The report of the committee on fire insurance was presented today. The gist of it is an advocacy of mutual insurance by paint manufacturers, as against insurance of the old-line variety. It recommends strongly that members of the association patronize the insurance concern which was created for their protection through the work of the organization.

There were no afternoon or evening sessions of the convention. The time was devoted to social functions.

GOOD ROADS CONVENTION

Southern Appalachian Association Held Meeting at Roanoke

Roanoke, Va., October 4.—The annual meeting of the Southern Appalachian Good Roads Association opened here today, delegates representing Georgia, North and South Carolina, West Virginia, Tennessee and Virginia, being present. The meetings today were presided over by the President, Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, of Chapel Hill, N. C. The address of welcome on behalf of Virginia was delivered by J. St. J. Wilson, State Highway Commissioner. Those who spoke on State good roads associations included President H. B. Varner, of the North Carolina Association, and J. N. Fisher, of East Tennessee. T. W. Page, director of the United States Office of Good Roads; President L. E. Johnson, of Norfolk and Western Railroad, and others spoke. The convention will adjourn tomorrow.

SCATTERED MONEY ALL OVER STATE

Such is The Testimony in the Investigation of Senator Stephenson's Election.

HIS CAMPAIGN COST $107,792

And No Detailed Expense Accounts Were Turned In to Him by His Managers Who Passed Out the Coin.

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 4.—Payments of money to workers in United States Senator Isaac Stephenson's campaign for the primary nomination in 1908 were made without any definite returns to the campaign managers as to what use the funds were put, according to testimony today before the Senatorial committee, which is investigating charges of bribery in connection with Senator Stephenson's election.

It was brought out that out of the senator's campaign fund of $107,793 in the primaries for the nomination, money was scattered broadcast over the State to 'organizers' who turned in no itemized expense accounts. Senator Stephenson gave no attention to detailed expenses, it was testified, and his campaign managers paid out money liberally wherever it was thought it would increase the senator's prospects of winning at the primaries.

From the amount of money spent it would appear that Senator Stephenson had no voluntary supporters in Wisconsin and from the efforts made to get out votes it would seem that the direct primary for which the people popularly were supposed to be clamoring, was not such a successful institution after all.

"Am I to understand that in Wisconsin, the home of the direct primary, half of the people have to be solicited to go to the polls?" asked Senator W. B. Heyburn, of Idaho, the chairman.

E. A. Edmonds, who had charge of Senator Stephenson's campaign, was on the stand.

"I don't know as to that," replied Edmonds, "but there were several Republican candidates for the nomination and we felt it necessary to employ every means to get out the Stephenson supporters."

Going over items of sums paid to individuals Edmonds said none of those who received money had returned itemized accounts.

"There are a number of items here charged to 'General'. They aggregate $1,000. Who is this general and what was the money spent for?" asked the chairman.

"I don't know. I suppose for organizing."

"Don't use that word organize. It is a glittering political generality used to avoid the necessity of particularizing."

Taking up the total of moneys paid to organizers, Edmonds said, although about $98,000 of the $107,793 campaign fund had passed through the headquarters at Milwaukee where he was in charge, he could not mention any item wherein he was given an itemized account of just how the money was expended.

ELECTS NEW OFFICERS.

Convention of Church of Christ in Virginia Selects Lynchburg.

Newport News, Va., Oct. 4.—At its session today the convention of the Church of Christ in Virginia, which has been in session here since Tuesday night, selected Lynchburg as the next place of meeting and elected the following officers:

H. P. Atkins, of Richmond, president; H. C. MacLachlan and H. E. McWare, vice presidents; R. M. Kent, treasurer; H. C. Combs, secretary; G. S. Crenshaw, auditor; H. C. Combs, superintendent of Sunday School work; W. W. Ford, superintendent of Christian Endeavor work; Miss Elizabeth Farley, secretary of Christian Endeavor.

In choosing Lynchburg over Roanoke, which city was recommended by the committee on time and place, the convention found it necessary to change the time of meeting from October to the second Tuesday in September.

UNEQUAL AND UNJUST.

So Says Virginia Corporation Commission as to Certain Rates.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 4.—The State Corporation Commission today handed down a decision to the effect that the passenger and freight rates on the Virginia Air Line, a branch of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway connecting its main line and its James river division, are discriminatory, unequal and unjust.

The suit was brought by the Virginia State Farmers' Institute and the Fluvanna County Farmers' Association. The decision requires that the Chesapeake & Ohio shall by November 1st put into force on the branch mentioned the same passenger and commodity rates that are in force on its other lines in Virginia, distance considered.

St. Louis, Oct. 4.—Hilary Beachey, an aviator, was seriously injured here late today by falling 25 feet to a brick pavement. Beachey tried to land in a field, but a high wind prevented and he sought a landing in the school yard.

DR. WILEY'S NEW ASSISTANT

In the General Shake-Up, Pure Food Expert, Once Decapitated, is Given Enlarged Powers in His Work.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Headed and controlled by Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, the chemistry bureau chief around whom the pure food controversy centered, the pure food and drug board of the department of agriculture, which passes upon matters of vital concern to immense manufacturing interests, will hereafter have largely augmented authority. From the complication that grew out of Solicitor McCabe's admitted control of the work of the board, the friction between McCabe and Dr. Dunlap, assistant chief of the chemistry bureau, on one side, and Wiley on the other, the three constituting the board, the fight for official supremacy, aired before Congress, Attorney General Wickersham's recommendation for Wiley's removal and Wiley's exoneration by President Taft, there developed today a clearer view of Dr. Wiley's enlarged powers.

Dr. R. E. Doolittle, of New York, a veteran chemist named to succeed Solicitor McCabe, on the board, was personally selected by Dr. Wiley. The two will act as a working majority, the only other member being Dr. F. L. Dunlap, who aligned with the solicitor and who will remain away on a vacation until after the President's return.

The official order of Secretary Wilson issued today transferred to the food and drug board many of the powers that have been exercised by Solicitor McCabe since July 1, 1910, the chief cause of the antagonism. It gives the board authority to determine what cases shall be pushed to prosecution, but Secretary Wilson, of course, will exercise the right of approval or disapproval.

The Secretary's order said:

"Hereafter all questions relating to citations for hearings will be considered by the board of food and drug inspection, and the determination made by a majority of that board as to whether or not the citation shall issue.

This directly affects the power of Solicitor McCabe, who has during the last year determined whether citations should issue, after the bureau of chemistry had recommended a case for prosecution. The new order further provides that after a hearing has been held, the board of food and drug inspection shall determine whether there will be a prosecution. The power of the solicitor is apparently restricted to the "preparation and transmittal to the department of justice", of such cases of prosecution.

MORE TROUBLE IN MEXICO.

New Revolutionary Movement Planned Against Madero.

Mexico City, Oct. 4.—Plans for a new revolutionary movement with ramifications in Oaxaca, Moreloa, Pachuca and in the National capital, directed against the supremacy of Madero, are said to have been discovered by secret agents of the President-elect. October 15th, is the date said to have been fixed for beginning of hostilities.

There have been discovered in this city, according to one who has the confidence of Madero, the existence of secret caches of arms which were removed through connivance of a police official, before they could be seized. A shipment of arms is said to be en route to Salina Cruz, intended for use by one of the parties to the plot. The campaign, it is alleged, is to be directed from San Antonio, Texas.

Reports from San Antonio alleging that a junta had been established in that city in the interest of Reyes were published in El Pais today. They alleged that a combination of Diaz, Reyes and Magon had been formed.

Rodolfo Reyes, son of Gen. Reyes, and Jose Peon Del Valle, the latter's erstwhile campaign manager, declared Reyes' going to San Antonio had nothing to do with any political movement.

Oregon, Ill., October 4.—Dr. Harry E. Webber, confessed slayer of his third wife, Bessie Kent Webster, was indicted by a jury for murder late today. He was arraigned immediately afterward and given until 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon to plead.

If the usual motion to quash is denied the prisoner will plead not guilty. The court will then set a date for a trial, after which the attorneys for the defense will ask for a change of venue to Lake county.

GOVERNMENT AIDS COTTON GROWERS

Scheme to Give Producers Fullest Benefit of Proper Grading.

BETTER QUALITY OF STAPLE

United States Department of Agriculture Appoints Experts to Help Farmers to Secure Higher Prices for Cotton.

Washington, Oct. 4.—An effort to secure higher prices for cotton by an improvement in the methods of handling, grading and marketing the crop is to be made by the government this year in co-operation with prominent cotton growers.

The plan is designed to bring to the cotton raisers the full benefit of the increase in value that can be secured by a careful grading of the crop to correspond with the new government standards. The standards have been in the hands of the cotton exchanges for some time and are recognized as official standards of the trade.

Officials of the Agricultural Department are planning to take the crop from plantations selected as experiment points. The government experts will use the most approved methods of grading, handling, baling and selling, and will make accurate returns on each operation for the benefit of the cotton growers.

It is believed that if the cotton raisers can be trained to grade the crop carefully in its initial handling, its value can be greatly increased by putting the cotton into grades that command higher prices. Efforts are being made to induce farmers' associations and local bodies to purchase sets of the government standards for use in preparing the cotton for the market.

The price of the standards has been reduced from $35 to $30 for the benefit of farmers' associations and the department is recommending that a "half series" be purchased which will give farmers a facility to grade their cotton. It is believed cotton raisers of the South will benefit to the extent of millions of dollars if the improvements in handling and marketing methods can be made general.

PACE CASE AT NEWBERN.

Seduction Charge Being Tried in Craven Superior Court.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Newbern, N. C., Oct. 4.—Hugh Napoleon Pace, of Wake county, was placed on trial here this morning in Superior Court for the alleged seduction of Miss Henrietta Daugherty, of Lenoir county, but who at the time was employed as a waitress at the Gaston Hotel, in this city. Pace is represented by Messrs. Moore and Dunn, while the prosecutor for the State is being assisted by Mr. D. E. Henderson. Miss Daugherty was the first witness placed on the stand and for four hours she underwent a grilling examination and cross-examination. She told in detail of meeting Pace. How her friendship for him ripened into love and how he had finally proposed marriage to her and her acceptance. She related the events attending their trip to Wilmington, where she claims that Pace had immoral relations with her. Never once did the defense break down with her story. A large number of other witnesses were placed on the stand and testified as to her excellent conduct. Tomorrow the defense will place their witnesses on the stand and it is quite probable that the trial will be concluded Friday afternoon. Mrs. Pace, wife of the defendant, was in the court room all during the day with her baby and she received the sympathy of all those present. There is much speculation as to the outcome of the trial and the verdict of the jury is awaited with much interest.

THRESHING OUT OLD SCORES

Is Corner on Cotton a Violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Law?

Washington, October 4.—The legal contest before the Supreme Court of the United States over the question of whether a corner of the cotton market is a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law began today when Solicitor General Lehmann, filed a brief contending that the law so applies. The point arose from the appeal of the government from the action of the New York Federal Court in quashing certain counts of an indictment against James A. Patten, Eugene G. Scale, Frank B. Haye and William P. Brown. The solicitor general quoted the Poet Pope in support of his contention that a corner was more than a gambling transaction and likewise, turned literature in an argument that such a corner as alleged not only resulted in "squeezing the shorts" but in a restraint of trade in violation of the Sherman law.

"A general corner can no more be accomplished in a commodity like cotton without affecting the entire commerce in that staple, says the solicitor general," than Shylock's bond could be enforced without shedding a drop of blood. As well say that Shylock's purpose was simply the pound of flesh. He was ravenous for the blood that would follow his knife. And these defendants sought the blood of the trade in cotton, the last penny on price they could draw from either shorts or spinners."

TAFT VIEWS BRONCHO BUSTERS

Rousing Reception Given the President at Cheyenne, Wyoming, by the Cowboys and Cow Girls in Contest

Rawlins, Wyo., October 4.—President Taft spent today in Wyoming and left Rawlins after a ten-minutes stop for Salt Lake City where he spends tomorrow. During the day the President stopped at Cheyenne and Laramie. At Cheyenne Charley Erwin, of the reception committee, had arranged a miniature reproduction of the "stunts" made famous at the annual Frontiers' Celebration. Mr. Taft watched the bucking broncos, the racing between cowboys and the roping of wild horses with great interest. He reviewed several thousand soldiers from Fort D. A. Russell, inspected the town from an automobile and spoke on his tariff vetoes in the opera house to a good sized crowd.

The frontier day show at Cheyenne was near a re-production of the annual affair as Irwin could make it. There were about 60 cowboys, cow girls, "bronco busters" and other western types in the cast. Mr. Taft watched the performance from the judge's stand with Senator Warren and Governor Carey and appeared to enjoy exceedingly the riding of bucking and outlaw horses.

Governor Carey, who accompanied the President across the State, told Mr. Taft that he would be backed by the Wyoming delegation at the next Republican convention, and that he would receive the electorate vote of the State in November, 1912. This announcement was of particular interest because Governor Carey was elected as an independent and against the candidates of the so-called "regular" machine.

Senator Warren promised the President today to support the peace treaties in the Senate. He declares that the President's speech on the subject unquestionably had met the approval of the people.

Charley Irwin showed himself a good stake manager, however, by renaming some of the ponies entered in the bucking contest.

There was one called "Billy Taft," another named "Archie Butt," a third that bucked, by the name of "Schedule K.," and another that the residents of Cheyenne declared was almost unridable, that Irwin had put down on the programme as "Teddy Roosevelt," "Reciprocity," "Gin Fizz," "Old Steamboat," and a few others under names less pertinent to a President's reception also ran.

"Billy Taft" was the first pony to be saddled, and Jack Martin, a buster, tried to ride him. Martin got about twenty feet beyond the judge's stand and then dismounted head foremost.

Next came "Archie Butt," ridden by Frank Carter, former champion buster of the world. Archie proved docile and Carter rode him easily up the track and into the coral.

"Senator Warren," ridden by Hugh Clark, "Aeroplane" with Bill Baker or his back, "Reciprocity," ridden by John Rickall, were subdued handily and "Scehdule K." gave up almost without a struggle, whereat those in the President's party laughed heartily.

"Teddy Roosevelt," manned by Henson, insisted upon converting himself into a small whilwind that revolved at an estimated speed of not less than thirty miles an hour. Henson stuck on for a couple of minutes, but then decided to descend and chose "Teddy's" head as a stopping block.

In the ladies' half mile race, Paulene Irwin, a little girl with golden hair, tied with bright red ribbon, and dressed in a khaki riding suit, came under the wire first riding as well as most of the men did standing up in the stirrups, whip in hand and getting all the plaudits of the crowd.

In the opera house the President declared that the present wool tariff is too high and announced his intention to revise it downward. Cheyenne is in the center of the sheep country and the President got little applause for that announcement.

SUPREME COURT OPINIONS.

Twenty-Three Opinions in Cases Handed Down Yesterday.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Co., Hertford, appeal withdrawn; Chadwick vs. Life Ins. Co., of Virginia, Wake, dismissed under Rule 17.

PEACE IS ASSURED IN M'COMB CITY

Over a Hundred Strikebreakers Are Hustled Out of Town.

THE CITIZENS DEMANDED IT

With the Railroads Vigorously Protesting, the Railroad Strike-breakers Are Hauled Away Guarded by Sixty Soldiers

McComb City, Miss., October 4.—With the enforced departure late today of the last of the strike-breakers brought here by the Illinois Central Railroad came the first real assurance of the restoration of peace after 24 hours of excitement and spasmodic rioting. The people of McComb City demanded that the strike-breakers be removed from their community and the 132 were placed aboard a heavily guarded special train and hurried to New Orleans.

Sixty soldiers armed with ball cartridges and with orders to "shoot to kill" if necessary, accompanied the special train south as far as Magnolia. This action by the military authorities probably prevented another pitched battle.

After the strike-breakers agreed to get out of town at 1 o'clock the departure of the train was delayed for nearly three hours by protests from the railroad company and the people of McComb City who began to exhibit signs of surliness and some show of mob spirit. About a half hour before the train left at 2:45 a number of these persons well armed, left the city going south and taking up a position near the railroad track on which the special would have to pass en route to New Orleans.

Strike leaders in automobiles finally persuaded the men to disband and commit no violent act.

Three companies of the Mississippi Guard patrolled the streets all day and tonight the belief is expressed that the town will remain quiet.

TELEGRAPHERS' STRIKE.

Not Interested at Asheville—Fire at Sylva, N. C.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Asheville, N. C., Oct. 4.—In an effort to find out something about the threatened strike of the telegraphers who are working for the Southern Railway by questioning some of the local members of the order, it appeared that they are not greatly, at least not vitally, interested in the matter. In fact, one of those questioned stated that he did not know what the threatened strike is about, though he thought it might be concerning a raise in pay. He said, however, that if a strike were called, the members of the order would have to go out, and there are several members in Asheville. It is probable that most of the telegraphers are members of the order and that it is much better organized than it was about ten years ago, when they were so badly outdone by the railroad. One of the local telegraphers thought that the order would win out if the leaders called a strike but he thought that the matter might be settled quietly enough by a 5 per cent. increase, but he did not think that 3 per cent., which it is said they have been offered, was enough.

Reports have been received here of a fire at Sylva, in Jackson county, which destroyed four buildings and threatened others. The buildings destroyed were on the Dillard Love property and the fire caught in a small dwelling house which was burned. The others were two old warehouses in which was the part of the stock of the Cathey Hardware Company and a store building, containing a small stock of groceries belonging to Will McDonald, colored. One of the buildings, it is reported, was torn down to retard the flames which threatened to reach the Central Hotel. It was feared that this would burn, but the quick work of the people saved it.

BE TRIED SEPARATE.

John J. McNamara Will be Arraigned First in Dynamiting Case.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 4.—John J. McNamara will be the first of the McNamara brothers, the alleged Times dynamiters, to be tried. District Attorney John D. Fredericks made this announcement tonight following the defense's decision to demand separate trials for the McNamaras.

It is the privilege of the defense to decide whether the accused should be tried singly. If seperate trials are demanded it is the province of the prosecution to specify which should face the jury first.

Of the 19 charges of murder lying against him, it is said, he will be tried first on that of having slain Charles Haggerty, a machinist killed in the explosion. District Attorney John D. Fredericks said tonight that in the event of separate trials, John J. McNamara would be first in court.

Washington, October 4.—With appropriate ceremonies and a parade of soldiers and sailors the 130th anniversary of the surrender of Lord Cornwallis and his army to George Washington at Yorktown, Va., will be celebrated at Yorktown, Thursday, October 19th. It is expected people from various parts of the country will make a pilgrimage to the famous battlefield at that time.

Brooklyn, Oct. 4.—New York clinched the pennant by defeating Brooklyn today 2 to 0. Should Chicago win all of its remaining games and the Giants lose theirs the New Yorks cannot be overhauled. The game today was a pitchers' duel between Mathewson and Rucker, the latter having been recalled from his wedding trip to pitch. He was to have been married October 12th, but the ceremony was advanced to Sunday last. Rucker pitched as well as Mathewson, but two errors following a hit by Doyle in the fourth inning were responsible for one tally. Rucker retired in the eighth to let Daly bat for him and the New Yorks scored their second run of Knetzer in the ninth on DeVore's single, a steal, a wild pitch and an infield tap by Snodgrass. The game was further signalized by a triple play in the ninth when, with Doyle on second and Snodgrass on first, Murray popped a fly to Stark. The hit and run was under way and the runners were going full tilt. Stark threw the ball to Daubert doubling Snodgrass, and the triple play was completed when Daubert threw to Tooley, nailing Doyle.

Philadelphia, Oct. 4.—Boston won both games of today's double-header from Philadelphia, the scores being 7 to 3 and 7 to 1. The second game was stopped on account of darkness at the end of the seventh inning. The visitors pounded the ball hard and in the third inning of the second game seven successive batsmen hit safely, the collection including five singles and two doubles. Donlin and Miller each made five hits. It was the first time this season that Boston won a double header.

THE FINAL GAME SATURDAY

To Determine Champions of Eastern North Carolina

Those New York Giants are still coming and the preparations for handling large crowds at the Polo Grounds are unprecedented. Yet, in proportion, the crowd that turns out to see our own athletes battle next Saturday for the amateur championship of eastern North Carolina should be larger and more enthusiastic than those who will pack the Giants' stronghold.

Both teams have a victory to their credit and the message received last night from Rocky Mount gives warning that blood will be in the eyes of the Railroad City claimants. Everyone knows our hopes, personally and in baseball parlance, and everyone knows also that they have got good baseball up their sleeves all the time. Last Saturday was one of the exceptions, for a few moments only. Next Saturday will be exceptional also, in furnishing one of those rare opportunities to witness a cracker-jack exhibition. It will all be local talent and the last opportunity to see a game this year.

Three pitchers are getting their arms in shape—the best three in the City League—and the assortment of benders, straight ones, spitters and twisters will be worth going to see.

No matter whether the Giants or the Athletics win the coveted world's championship, with its accompanying barrels of money, we are going to retain the championship of eastern Carolina in Wilmington just as long as possible, and the Coast Line team is the one that will bear the brunt of the conflict. A large crowd should turn out to see this last game of the season.

ONLY FAIR SUCCESS.

Advertising Adventure May Fall Through Unless Aid is Received.

Mr. John S. Ramos, who is working to raise $1,500 to finance Captain Adolph Freitsch, the "lone mariner", in a voyage across the Atlantic in a 40-foot boat manned only by himself, and on which voyage he is to carry a bale of cotton from this port to the Liverpool Cotton Exchange as a means of advertising Wilmington, reports only fair success. He has succeeded in raising about $400 and still needs $1,100. The time limit expires Saturday evening.

In the window of DeRosset's bookstore today Mr. Ramos will exhibit a framed picture of the Nina, in which the lone mariner crossed the ocean once before by himself. He hopes to attract interest and attention. Anyone desiring to contribute to the fund is asked to leave his name at the store and he will call on them later.

Mr. Ramos declares that if the publicity stunt cannot be conducted from this city he will go to Norfolk or Charleston and endeavor to promote it in one of those cities.

"The Man on the Box," with Bert Leigh, in the title role, was the last night's offering at the Academy of Music. A very large house was there to see the production, and a happy crowd it was, for the popular comedy pleased in every way. Mr. Leigh, has an easy indifferent air, as to acting he is just natural, and his comedy is good and clean-cut. Miss Long, who is Mr. Leigh's leading lady, is a good-looking woman with pleasing ability. All the company in support are clever people, especially is Mr. Roquemore, as the "newspaper reporter," and Mr. Kirk, as "the judge." The "Man on the Box," is a clean, high-class play, with a clean high-class company presenting it.

"The Nest Egg" Tonight

Those who miss seeing "The Nest Egg' at the Academy of Music tonight will undoubtedly miss one of the best things of the season. "The Nest Egg" was one of the big hits of last season in New York, and this season the attraction is being lavishly praised by the press. The Richmond and Norfolk papers give it high praise.

In commenting on the theatrical events of the season in New York, the sprightly and authoritative Saturday Evening Post had the following to say of "The Nest Egg," the comedy with a hundred laughs and one tear.

'The season has been barren of native comedy of the first order. In "The Nest Egg," however, Miss Anne Caldwell has added to the lengthening list of successful American farces."

"This play centers in a grotesquely ridiculous spinster of a kind that has been made familiar in the comedies of the late Clyde Fitch. Hetty Gandy is however, at once more human and more acutely psychologized. She is the village seamstress, and she confesses that in the loneliness of her life she has longed for even the homecoming of a drunken husband. A being quite without humor, she has a vivid imagination and a racy picturesqueness of phrase that make her the delight of the young women for whom she sews—and of her audience. She is indeed the arch impersonation of seamstress spinsterhood, and the humors of her starved heart and eccentric mind will be recognized by every woman who has had a gown made over. The skill with which the wildest flights of her imagination and of her vocabulary are kept within the range of responsibility is quite the most remarkable thing about a very remarkable little play.

"Three years before, in selling the surplus fruits of her hens, she inscribed a rhymed offer of marriage on one side of an egg, and her name and date on the other. Since then she has lived in a tremor of anticipation. And behold, a telegram comes, saying that one Wiley Bassett will come to take her to Albany. The glad news spreads abroad in the village and Hetty prepares her trousseau. But when Wiley comes, he is no bridegroom. He is a dyspeptic disciple of his namesake in the Department of Agriculture. He has been poisoned by the romantic egg, which has led a cold, unromantic existence for three years in storage.

"His purpose in the trip to Albany is to present Hetty as witness in a suit against the cold storage people. It is all as topical and timely as it is amusing, and if Hetty's timely conquest of the heart of Wiley, who is dyspeptically lonesome and in need of a cook, somewhat strains probability, the fact is joyously forgiven."

Seats are on sale at Plummer's.

"Mutt and Jeff" Saturday

The announcement of the coming engagement of the new original creation, "Mutt and Jeff," which is announced as the attraction at the Academy of Music, matinee and night, is of more than ordinary interest to the local play-goers. First, because of the fact that the play itself is brand new, this season being its first on the road; second, because of the excellence of the piece, and third, on account of the gorgeous manner in which it will be presented. The play was constructed to drive away dull care and is being produced under the personal direction of that well-known New York producer, Mr. Gus Hill, who declares it is one of the best, if not the very best, musical comedy production he has ever sent on the road, and that is saying a great deal.

Mr. Hill has engaged for the play one of the best presenting companies it has been possible for him to secure. The cast numbers more than fifty people, at least a half dozen stars being included in the company. The character drawing is said to be thoroughly true to life, with a decidedly metropolitan atmosphere, the action crisp, the dialogue snappy, comedy galore and the piece is filled with new and catchy musical ensembles.

In the selection of the cast, Mr. Hill toured the entire country in an endeavor to secure players especially suited to certain parts. His long and varied experience in the theatrical business has stood him in good stead in outlining his characters. The production will be complete in every respect, beautiful as regards costumes and scenery, the transportation of which requires two sixty-foot cars, and the play itself is a gem in the eyes of those who enjoy shows in which one laugh provoking situation follows in rapid succession.

Seats for both matinee and night will go on sale at Plummer's tomorrow mornig. The matinee prices will go to $1. The night scale will reach $1.50.

"The Clansman," Matinee and Night

An elaborate revival of Thomas Dixon's sensational success, "The Clansman," has been made by the Southern Amusement Company, of which George H. Brennan is manager, for a tour of the South this season. It has been seen here so it is with satisfaction that we note the revival. News has just reached us that this city is to be included in the coming tour.

New sets of scenery have been constructed from the original models and the coming engagement of "The Clansman" will be marked by the usual lavish staging that has distinguished this spectacular performance on its previous visits.

"The Clansman" has enjoyed ustinted popularity for the past six years throughout the entire United States and local theatre-goers will undoubtedly be glad of another opportunity to see this remarkable drama of the Ku Klux Klan, and the stirring events that transpired in the South during the memorable Reconstruction period.

The revival production of "The Clansman" will play an engagement in Wilmington, at the Academy of Music, Monday, being offered at both matinee and night. Seats for both performances will go on sale Saturday.

Brilliant Musical Feast

The treat of the season, as far as musical attractions are concerned, will be Creatore and His Band of fifty musicians which will appear at the Academy of Music next Tuesday night, October 10th. Those who have been fortunate enough to hear this band have already sent in their application for tickets and many others have been added to the list.

Signor Creatore, as usual, has been holding large audiences under his wonderful spell. From the reports received at times his audiences are all but moved to tears, roused by the tender sympathetic strains, while at other times they seem ready to stand on their feet and shout to relieve the pent up something produced by the thrills from the wonderful cresendos which peal forth from his band.

During one of the band's long sojourns in New York the "Herald" gave the following as part of a very lengthy notice: "Seldom has such enthusiasm been seen in a New York theatre. After the sextette from "Lucia," the applause was deafening, and the people climbed upon their chairs to cheer. The "Tannhauser" overture and several other numbers evoked equally exuberant signs of approval."

Seats will go on sale at Plummer's Monday morning.

"The Gamblers," Wednesday

One of the most stirring scenes in "The Gamblers," Charles Klein's latest great play which comes to the Academy of Music next Wednesday night, October 11th, shows five of its gamblers playing a poker game, which is only a sham for the stacking of the cards in their bigger financial game. They hold an emergency meeting at a director's residence on the night of

THE HILTON LUMBER ROAD

Freight Service Wanted on Road from Wallace—Conviction of Norris —Charter Issued—A Wedding—Other News

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., October 4.—The Corporation Commission heard extended argument today on a petition from numerous citizens of Duplin county for the Hilton Railroad Co., to be compelled to provide freight service on its lumber road from a point near Wallace about ten miles into the county via Pinhook at which place, five miles from Wallace, a freight station is demanded.

It is insisted that to do this would afford valuable service to points like Hallsville, Chinquepin, Beulahville and other places. H. L. Stevens, of Warsaw, and R. G. Grady, of Wilmington, were here pushing the case in the interest of the petitioners. R. A. Parsley, of the Hilton Lumber Co., was here opposing the petition for the railroad. His contention is that the road is purely a lumber road for getting lumber out of the woods for his mills and that there is nither the public necessity for the freight service nor the actual freight to be carried. Furthermore, that his company is not in position to put on the freight equipment. The answer to this is that the Hilton Lumber Co., was duly chartered by the Legislature with power to eminent domain and that this public service is obligatory. Furthermore, it is insisted that when the road is extended to ten miles and beyond the demand will be made for passenger service and for new stations each five miles of extension.

Walter A. Armstrong, who was injured two weeks ago while walking between the tracks of the Southern and Seaboard Air Line Railroad companies here, died last night at Rex Hospital. He was struck on the head by a swinging door of a Southern freight car and knocked on to the tracks of the Seaboard where, later, a passing train ground off his arm. He leaves a wife and two children.

In their appeal from the conviction and sentence of L. J. Norris for the murder of J. B. Bissett in the trial just closed here, counsel for Norris are confidently expecting a new trial on the ground that there was no warrant in law for the jury to be charged that there was ground for a verdict of second degree murder. The insistence is that if he was guilty at all it was first degree murder in that the evidence, circumstantial entirely, was that he quarreled with Bissett and the woman in the hack and then went out to the trysting place in the woods and rushed out on Bissett, shot him to death and ran before the woman had opportunity to see him clearly eough to identify him. On the other hand, however, the defense insists that Norris established an alibi in establishing his presence in town at times when it would have been impossible for him to have gone out to the scene of the murder and then gotten back down town. The second degree murder verdict was a great surprise here, acquittal being generally expected.

A charter was issued today for the Hill Live Stock Co., Louisburg, capital $100,000, by K. P. Hill, F. W. Justice and others. And for the Denton Chair Co., of Denton, Davidson county, capital $25,000 authorized and $10,000 subscribed by C. C. Shaw and others.

Former Associate Justice Walter A. Montgomery, of the North Carolina Supreme Court, has returned to the city with his family from Washington, D. C., where he spent the past year for the special purpose of making extensive researches in connection with his special work of writing his forthcoming book, "The Civil Administration of The Confederate Government and Its Diplomatic Relations." This is to be in two volumes and is to be published some time during the coming Spring. It will be the only work of the kind yet written and Judge Montgomery is taking his time in getting it in thorough shape as to data and composition.

A splendid audience of Raleigh's best people assembled tonight in the First Baptist church for the marriage of Miss Minnie Moring, the lovely and gifted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Moring, and Mr. Horace V. Daniel, formerly of Staunton, Va., but now of Raleigh, being traveling auditor for the Standard Oil Co. From the church the bridal party and hundreds of friends went to the Moring home on North Blount street for a reception after which Mr. and Mrs. Daniel left for a bridal trip North. The marriage service was by Rev. Livingston Johnson, corresponding secretary of the North Carolina Baptist Convention, Dr. O'Kelly, the pastor, being out of the city.

COTTON PICKING RECORD

Two Young Men Picked 847 Pounds in Eleven Hours

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Atkinson, N. C., October 4.—Rising at 6 A. M. and going to the cotton field at 6:30, then picking 847 pounds of cotton in 11 hours, is what Albert Corbett and his brother, Norwood, did yesterday on their large farm near Atkinson.

The entire family picked 1,809 pounds in the same time, and there was no wager of any sort between them to anyone else. The writer was informed by one of the young men that they would challenge any white picker in Eastern Carolina for a day's picking. Such are some of Pender county's young farmers.

CARD OF THANKS.

Editor the Star, Wilmington, N. C.

Will you please be so kind as to give me space in your paper to thank my friends in Pender county as well as many in this city for the kindness so liberally shown me while I was helpless and suffering at the hospital in this city, caused from the fearful burns received on the 4th of June while fighting forest fires in Canetuck township. My companion, Mr. Willie Huffham, who was burned at the same time, died at the hospital, but God, our Guide in all things for good, spared my life and I trust for a more useful one in the future. Again thanking all those who assisted me in my distress, and may they all be blessed.

Respectfully

C. S. PRIDGEN.

THE SUMER REST ROAD

Miss Cronly Writes of Proceedings Before Commissioners Monday

Editor Star:—In your report on Tuesday of Monday's meeting of the Board of County Commissioners, you speak of a communication from me to that body in which I am said to have discussed the blocking of a certain road "by a gate on Mr. Pembroke Jones' property."

I made no such statement, for the gate is not on Mr. Jones' property at all, but reaches from a point in the eastern boundary of land which Mr. Jones leases from the city of Wilmington to a point opposite, thus entirely closing a county road.

In other words, Mr. Jones has leased from the city certain land whose survey begins at a point in the western line of this road, known as Ocean avenue in the Summer Rest plot, and never reached the road line, yet he has blocked the road.

It seems very hard to convince the County Commissioners of the truth that this road does not go through private property, but does go along the eastern line of the encampment grounds, moving to the northeast as the short line curves and then going west, north and west again, keeping this general direction until it meets the Scott's Hill road.

This being the case and as I have never mentioned Mr. Pembroke Jones' land in connection with this gate, I am a little tired of being misquoted and deem it only fair to me that you publish my communication in its entirety, as its length is due to the fact that I have proved my claim by quoting from the County Commissioners' records.

I had not expected to appear in print at all and as I certainly hope there will be no further necessity for my doing so, I wish to comment now on a communication from Mr. Jones which was published in The Star of September 4th, in which he apologized for fencing in his own land.

I am sure nobody could possibly object to his doing so; that is only when (as in this case) he encloses property not his own, that a protest should be made.

Mr. Jones makes no mention of the gate which was the issue in my former communication, but tells of giving a road to the county because "the County Commissioners wanted a road, beginning at Wrightsville, running to a point on the Market street road about four miles from Wilmington." The road his new branch is connected with, reaches the Scott's Hill road six or seven miles from Wilmington, leaving out that it would strike most people as illogical to have another road to Wilmington almost parallel with the one already built to that point, we are confronted by an entirely different statement from the County Commissioners' records where on page 661, in tae report of a meeting held July 24th, 1902, we read the following: "An application of Pembroke Jones for a change in part of road section 4, the following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved that road section 4 in Harnett township be discontinued from a point in said road at or near Anthony Nixon's line to the northern line of ditch known as Larkins' ditch, and in lieu of said discontinued road, a road be laid out and built along the western line of lands now owned by Pembroke Jones and thence along route proposed in a map made by Joseph McRee, at expense of petitioner, Pembroke Jones, present road to remain a public road until above terms are complied with."

That was nine years ago this Summer and the road "laid out" is now a weed-grown track, having shallow ditches on both sides and spoken of by the colored people who have to traverse it since the other road was closed to them as "that snake path," since it is an ideal home for these reptiles and hides dozens of them who come in the Spring and Summer to menace foot passengers. Surely it is a road to which the word built could never be applied.

This new road runs partly along certain land owned, I am informed, by a Wilmington resident and fenced in by Mr. Jones to protect his game, thence for about 400 yards or "500 yards along the western line of lands now owned by Pembroke Jones," and for the rest of the way through the property of an industrious colored man who protested vigorously but in vain against both the change of route and the division of his land by it. He has never been paid one cent for this involuntary right of way unless the money has been given him in the last few days.

The colored people of this section are almost without exception, honest, industrious and good mannered, making their living by cheerful toil and selling their produce in Summer to residents along the sound and at the beach. As the road should be, and as I hold it legally is, they would have a route shaded most of the way and firm underfoot. Now they are compelled to go a full mile further each way, have not a tree to shade them, and from McComber's store to Wrightsville have to travel through heavy sand. I am perfectly familiar with both roads and know exactly what the facts are.

I have in my communication given exactly Mr. McEachern's words as to the proceedings necessary for making a change in a county road, so by his own statement there has been no legal discontinuation of any point on the original road. There was never any question of discontinuing it where the gate is; (because when the petition was presented Mr. Jones had not leased the encampment grounds and had no interest there), the cut off portion was to begin at the northern line of Larkins' ditch as will be seen by referring to the pitition.

We have not spent a Summer down here since the discontinuation was made and we found on coming this year that we are completely cut off from the back road by the change.

In case of another washing away of Mott's Creek bridge, such as there was in 1908, the residents of Summer Rest would have no way of getting to town unless we established a ferry across this creek. Our supplies, such as fresh vegetables and fruit came mainly from the section now cut off and the people who still bring them to us from a sense of loyalty to former regular customers, have to come far out of their way to do so and I really cannot see why many should be inconvenienced because of one person who bought his property with the full knowledge that the county road ran through it. If it was only a driveway made by two men why were the County Commissioners appealed to to divert it?

It was a thoroughfare used by many persons both for business and for pleasure, and my point is that since it has not been legally discontinued it is still open to the public, and the County Commissioners should either restore the people's rights or show just cause for denying them.

We have roads to Masonboro, to Hewlett's Creek, to Whiskey Creek (these three are partly the same road, I think), to Greenville, to Wrightsville and to Scott's Hill; why not complete the chain by macadamizing this road from the Scott's Hill road to where it is macadamized along the Summer Rest shore? Then we would have a fine driveway from Wilmington via Wrightsville and Summer Rest to the Scott's Hill road and thence back to town; or one could go out by the latter route and return by the former. It would benefit people between here and Scott's Hill by giving them a shorter route to Wrightsville and the beach and open up the northern section of our county to visitors on the beach, many of whom come over every Summer and drive as far as the gate.

Those who keep automobiles for hire could have them at Wrightsville station ready for any who desired a trip while our town people would have cars or horses would have a delightful driveway open to them, all the year. There would be only about three miles more to macadamize in order to complete this "belt line" and now is just the time to get it since that fifty thousand dollars was voted for road improvement last May.

Now, just a little more and I will be through. When Mr. Jones had the encampment property surveyed upon his leasing it, his surveyor started from the wrong point and threw the lines 26 feet on my mother's land, 67 feet on the property just north of us, and even almost all of the third lot which is separated from the encampment grounds by Cedar street. Without a word to any of us, Mr. Jones fenced in this extra ground, certainly not his own. As soon as we discovered it, of course the fence had to be moved, and while Mr. Jones said he wanted nothing that did not belong to him, it would have been well for him to have notified us all of the result of the survey before putting the fence across. Then we would have had the surveyor shown the proper starting point and there would have been no difficulty. This was straightened out and Cedar Creek released, but there are still several "streets" of Summer Rest enclosed with the encampment property.

Now, while I may not have aught withheld, neither have I "aught set down in malice." I have simply stated facts which can be proven, readily doing this because there seems to be an idea on the part of the County Commissioners that I am unreasonably asking to have Mr. Jones deprived of some of his rights. On the contrary, he is entirely welcome to have and to hold everything that is his—but I ask the people in whose behalf I write, the same privilege.

Thanking you for the space you have given me, I am,

Very truly yours,

Oct. 4th, 1911. MARY D. CRONLY.

S.S.S. A GREAT TONIC AND BLOOD PURIFIER

There is one reason above all others which makes S. S. S. the greatest of all tonics, and that is because it is the most perfect of all blood purifiers. Any system which needs a tonic, needs a blood purifier, for it is impure blood which causes the weakened, run-down condition of the body. S.S.S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, which possess not only strengthening properties, but at the same time are recognized as ingredients of the greatest value for removing every impurity, poison or taint from the circulation. S.S.S. improves the appetite and digestion, corrects stomach disturbances and steadily tones and builds the system up to perfect health. It adds to the blood the rich, healthful properties it needs, and in every way enables the system to stand the strain of the long, hot summer. S. S. S. cures all diseases and disorders arising from weak or impure blood. Book on the blood and medical advice free. S. S. S. is for sale at drug stores. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at $6 per year, $3 for six months, $1.50 for three months, 50 cents for one month, served by carriers in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, or if paid cash in advance a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper.

Advertisements discontinued before expiration of contracts are charged transient rates for time actually published. Payment for transient advertisements must be cash in advance. Contract advertisers will not be allowed to exceed their space at same rates, or advertise anything foreign to their regular business without extra charge. Advertisements to occupy special place will be charged for according to position desired.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

The Big Excuse is the Tariff Board.

A direct tax on fertilizers is an indirect tax on the farmers. It's the old story of the consumers' paying the freight.

Toronto, Canada, is a city of 400,000 inhabitants in spite of the fact that they spend about six months hugging the stove.

The Salisbury Post renews the assertion that "marriage is a lottery." The reason it is so is because people can't be induced to quit taking chances.

Italy will be the first country to try flying machines in war. In her operations at Tripoli she will have an aerial navy of eight monoplanes and two biplanes.

"There are not enough chorus girls to go around," declares a New York paper. Yes, but no New Yorker has ever been known to go around a chorus girl.

A Cleveland woman wouldn't marry a man till he signed a formidable document full of all sorts of promises to be good. She should have required a bond instead of a mere promissory obligation.

Wilmington is one of the ports nearest the Panama Canal, but it takes ships to get there. The ports with the ships will make use of the canal, whether they are 1,800 or 6,000 miles away.

Editors who thought the Democratic primaries in New Jersey meant the passing of Woodrow Wilson, have to revise their opinions after reading the proceedings of the State convention on Tuesday.

It is said Jack Johnson has spent $120,000 since fighting Jeffries, and that he has very little money left of his big winnings in the prize ring. The end of the watermelon season finds Jack just about dead broke.

With a rattlesnake eight feet, four inches in length and a body 14 inches in circumference, such as was recently killed by Mr. J. W. Prevatt, it can be fully realized that when we "see snakes" down in the tidal country we see 'em on a large scale.

Admiral Schley, whose death is mourned by the Nation, lived long enough to see the people of the Republic decide for themselves that the man who fights a battle and wins is the victor and hero and not a man who was twenty miles away while the battle was raging.

The "Back Home" movement would be more inviting if we could inform the absentees that when they "come back" they will find North Carolina with a network of good roads instead of the trails of former days. Let's build good roads so back-homers will want to stay when they come back.

The Republican National Committee will meet in Washington in November to select the date and place for holding the National Convention to nominate a candidate for President. It makes no particular difference just where or when the Jonah convention is to meet and go through the motion of a mere formality.

Says the Christian Science Monitor, of Boston: "It might serve as a useful rebuke to those who thought to put the Tariff Board out of business by refusing to appropriate a sufficient amount for its maintenance, if the necessary relief for that body should be provided by popular subscription." Popular? Why usurp the duty of the Stand-patters?

WHEN THE CANAL IS READY.

Lots of the conjured commercial prospects of Southern seaports on account of the Panama Canal is "all in your eye" unless the business men of the various ports organize and take advantage of their opportunities. The persimmon might be up there, but where is the pole to knock it down?

The great advantage of the Canal to our ports is all on paper unless we can make gateways for interior States. That all depends on the steamship service we are to have and upon the rail transportation available for making our ports great distributing centres. Don't let us anticipate much South American or Oriental trade unless we organize to get it. The whole of North Carolina might organize a great exporting and importing association, and get to work so we can ascertain the prospects for building up a canal commerce for North Carolina and other States reached by Wilmington's distributing lines. It will even require money to find out "where we are at." Will North Carolina make the effort?

What can we export from Wilmington to South America? With the numerous cotton mills of the Carolinas, we ought to export large quantities of manufactured cottons if we can compete with European manufacturers. If we manufacture in a protection country with its higher labor, can we compete with countries like Great Britain, Germany, France or Japan? That is something else we will have to inquire into, as well as ascertain the kind of cotton goods for which there is a demand in South America. We may be able to compete on account of saving in freights because of our nearness to the markets through the Isthmian waterway. We will have to figure on that.

If we cannot ship manufactured cottons we certainly can export our raw cotton for which there is considerable and increasing demand in South American countries. Some of those countries raise their own cotton, while others do not. Some of them are experimenting in cotton planting, but the South can raise cotton cheaper than they can because of the great transportation facilities afforded by railroads networking our Cotton Belt. Transportation cuts a bg figure in the economy of getting cotton to market after it is made. We can beat the world raising cotton if we try.

Our consular reports tell us that the manufacture of cotton has not attained any special prominence in Latin American countries, but in South America, particularly in Brazil, the manufacture of cotton, as well as the production of cotton, is being encouraged. Brazil has some cotton mills in Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo, in the southern part of that country, while her cotton plantations are in the northern provinces. It is the reverse of what we used to have when the South produced the cotton and the North manufactured it.

Brazil will have to build her mills where the cotton is grown, just as we are now doing in the South. At present, however, Brazil's cotton is grown in the northern provinces or States, but here is where the disadvantage of inadequate transportation figures in the economy of cotton growing. From Brazil's cotton belt the staple has to be transported long distances by horse, traction and railway to the coast, thence by sea to the southern ports, there again to be put aboard trains and carts bound for the mills. Thus we observe, transportation means much to the manufacturing world, and in the cotton growing world. In spite of the many disadvantages, Brazil's mills operate 1,000,000 spindles, and last year their product was valued at $42,000,000. However, there is a yearly consumption to the value of $60,000,000, so it is clear that the chances are still good in the Brazilian markets for the South's cotton goods as well as raw cotton.

Taking everything into consideration, we should say that the prospects for Southern cotton goods and raw cotton in South American countries are good. If so, Wilmington ought to do a big business in the export of cottons, raw and manufactured. It is said there is a splendid market in Central and South America for furniture, and since North Carolina is the second furniture manufacturing State in the United States, there probably is a fine opening for us to export furniture from Wilmington. We might do the same in manufactured tobaccos, and other products demanded by the South American trade. Let us investigate and try.

SOUTH AMERICAN TRADE.

The press of the South Atlantic and Gulf ports has had a great deal to say about the opportunities for the South to get its share of trade with Central and South American countries when the Panama Canal is opened two years from now.

What about Wilmington's getting a good share of the Latin American trade that is bound to grow tremendously when the canal opens the west coast of South America to the business men and manufacturers of the United States? What about all other Southern ports that are banking on the advantages which the canal will give to our South Atlantic and Gulf ports? Let us see about it.

In the first place, it has been argued that South American trade will originate at or be attracted to our ports because of the physical advantages we will have in being nearer to the Isthmian waterway, consequently placing us in easier reach of the South American markets than are the North Atlantic and Pacific ports. Logically, the advantage is with us, but we are bound to be disillusioned when we see the more distant ports doing the business. As a matter of fact, our nearness to the trade of the Latin countries is advantageous particularly in the incentive that will move us to do business. If we have no steamship service, nothing to export, and no exporters, our closeness to the markets will avail us nothing. We might as well be 6,000 miles away as 1,800 miles from a given point, as the case may be.

In a general way, our nearness to the South American countries surely must benefit our Southern ports, but the possibilities of our ports depend upon what our business men do. In the first place, the exporting business requires large capital, and as a few individuals doing business would not attract the steamship service, the first thing to be done will be to organize one or more large exporting companies. The next thing in order would be to have something for the company to export in such quantities as will load a steamer. If the port of Wilmington will furnish the exports the steamers will come. We can at least make it a port of call for steamers passing to and from South American and Central American ports, and even to the Orient.

The prime consideration is, what shall we export to our Latin customers and what shall we import from them? For what of our products is there a demand in South America? What of their products does Wilmington, and several States for which this port is the natural gateway, need in their business? We will have to make a study of these things before we can establish any considerable commerce between Wilmington, or any other Southern port, and Latin American markets. The port which has the products to export, exporters and importers to do the business, and the necessary steamship service, will do the business regardless of the distance from our desired customers.

Off-hand, one might think that the nearest South American ports to Wilmington are those in the eastern portion of that country. That is a mistake. The nearest part of the main continent is its western portion, as Chile lies directly south of the port of Wilmington—Southport. Almost a bee line from Wilmington to Valparaiso can be drawn right through the great Isthmian waterway, and it is the trade of the western portion of South America, Central America and the Orient, that the Panama Canal opens up to us. The canal will put us no nearer the eastern portion of South America than we were before, but when transcontinental railroads run from Chile to the eastern Latin Republics we might get some advantage, but as to that it is problematical.

About all we seem to know definitely is that there are in South America about 40,000,000 people who might be made good customers if we have what they want and have the steamship service to reach them. Do we know what the South Americans want from us and are we in a position to supply their wants? If we don't know, how are we going to find out? When we find out, what are we going to do about it? Do we propose to do business, or do we expect business to do itself?

The man who thinks Senator Simmons has no friends in Guilford should revise his opinion. He was in the City yesterday and numbers of his friends called on him—more than some people thought he had in the entire county.—Grensboro Record.

As the boll weevil's vanguard is now in Alabama, the news which most concerns States farther east and north must come from there. We note with interest, therefore, that the field agent of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute reports the pest only 25 miles beyond its bounds at the end of last year. At this rate a line of counties only one or two wide would be infested during 1912, and much the greater number of the State's cotton counties would remain free for two seasons. With most of Alabama and all of Georgia still lying between, it is thus evident that the Carolinas have a very considerable period of immunity ahead. Not in ten years would the weevil reach North Carolina at this slow speed. At the same time there is no reason why farmers here should not contemplate the possibility of a much earlier arrival and discount it by measures—principally crop diversification—which would be excellent even if the weevil had never left his Guatemalan home. —Charlotte Observer.

FLESH-FORMING FOOD.

When you buy a package of Samose, the great flesh-forming food, weigh yourself and see how much you gain in the first week's use. J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., will tell of many of their customers who a month or so ago were thin, pale and haggard, but who are now, through the use of Samose, plump, strong and happy, with perfect health and attractive flesh. They have seen so many instances of the wonderful power of Samose to restore the weak and sick to strength and health, and to make good natural flesh that they hive their personal guarantee with every package of Samose they sell to refund the money if it does not prove satisfactory.

Samose is a pure preparation, and can be used with absolute confidence by the most delicate. It gives remarkable results with children who are weak and run down and without appetite. It builds up the thin, pale, puny girl and woman to perfect plumpness and health. It is the only flesh-forming food of its kind and in addition it strengthens every organ of the body, restoring strength and health to the whole system.

BULLET CRASHED INTO TRAIN

Stray Bullet Crashed Into Car When Nearing Raleigh

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., October4 .—As the Southern train, due here from Goldsboro this morning at 8:30 o'clock, bound for Asheville, was nearing the Raleigh station a 32-calibre bullet creashed through the window of a passenger car and inflicted a scalp wound on A. J. Thompson, of this city. Just back of him was Hon. Ashley Horne, of Clayton, chairman of the State Building Commission, and there were numbers of other well-known people in the car. No clue to the culprit has been discovered. The The force of the ball was spent evidently before it struck the car window. Since no one at all suspicious could be found nearby, it is thougnt probable that the bullet was from a long range rifle and may not have been intended for the train at all.

HER AILMENT
A COMMON ONE

Happy Experience of Mrs. Dillinger, Who finally Found Relief in Cardui, the Woman's Tonic.

West Baden, Ind.—"For about four years," says Mrs. Sarah Dillinger, of this place, "I suffered with an ailment common to women, and I was so poorly that I could not do my work.

Since taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, I am stout, and able to work all day, hard. It is certainly a great medicine for women. I recommend it to a great many ladies.

Mr. daughter is now taking Cardui, and it seems to be helping her already, although she has now taken only one bottle.

Cardui is the best medicine I ever took. It has done me so much good! It saved my life, and I can't praise it too much."

Every woman would always keep Cardui handy, for use when needed if she knew what benefit it gives in cases where weakened vitality makes the body and brain seem tired and worn-out.

A few doses of Cardui, at the right time, will often save much suffering by preventing a more serious sickness.

To relieve pain and misery, due to womanly troubles, nothing has been found during the 50 years that it has been before the public to take the place of Cardui.

Won't you try it?

KILLED BY TRAIN

Found Tuesday Lying by Track of V & C S Railroad.

(Fayetteville Observer.)

Jeff Davis, a young white man, was found Tuesday morning lying near by the track of the Virginia and Carolina Southern Railroad at a curve of the road near Roslin, some 12 miles from Fayetteville. County Coroner Dr. J. V. McGougan was notified, and he went to the scene, summoned a jury and held an inquest. The jury rendered a verdict that the deceased came to his death from a blow by a railroad train. A deep hole had been cut in the back of Davis' head, but there was no indication of robbery, and all the evidence tendered to show that he was killed by a train.

Mr. Davis was the son of Mr. Jack Davis, a well-known citizen of this county, who lives on Big Rockfish. He was, we believe, engaged as fireman for the Hughes Lumber Company, near Parkton.

NAVIGATION AND PILOTAGE

Official Report of Proceedings of Board of Commissioners at Regular Monthly Meeting Yesterday. The New Lightship.

Wilmington, N. C., Oct. 4, 1911.

Regular monthly meeting of the Board of Commissioners of Navigation and Pilotage was held today, with the following present: Chairman James Sprunt, Vice Chairman J. W. Harper, Commissioners H. G. Smallbones and William St. George, and Clerk L. Brown McKoy. The Harbor Master, Capt. E. D. Williams, also sat with the board.

Reading of the minutes of the last meeting was dispensed with, they having been published in the newspapers at the time and read by the Commissioners.

Correspondence between the clerk of the board and Pilot J. A. Williams, with reference to the latter's failure to comply with the regulations and take part in the soundings for May, was fully discussed. The excuse offered by Pilot Williams, that he was otherwise engaged, not being sufficient, the clerk was instructed to enter a fine of $10 against him for failure to comply with the instructions of the board, it being the sense of the board that Pilot Williams had not been properly excused, and that a pilot, whether engaged in other business or not, shall be required to comply with the regulation referred to, regarding soundings. The clerk was instructed to inform Pilot Williams that his function as pilot is suspended until the fine imposed has been paid.

It was further ordered that in all further cases of dereliction of duty, where a fine is imposed, a suspension of the pilot's license shall apply until the fine is paid.

In the case of Pilot J. F. Arnold, it was shown that he was clearly guilty of a breech of rule No. 11, providing that any pilot intending to absent himself from his station for over 48 hours, shall communicate his intention to the chairman, who may grant a permit, and the pilot shall likewise make known his return, under penalty of $50 for such neglect. It was adjudged, however, in view of certain mitigating circumstances narrated by Pilot Arnold in his communication marked 7-6, that the fine in his case should be made $10, his function as pilot to be suspended until the fine is paid.

A letter from Pilot E. H. Adkins was read, requesting that he be relieved of a fine of $50 imposed at a meeting of the board held on June 28th, for being absent from his station for more than 48 hours without permission. After due consideration of the matter by the board, it was ordered that Pilot Adkins' request be refused, in view of the fact, clearly established to the satisfaction of the board on June 28th, that Pilot Adkins' action was a flagrant violation of the rule and that he must have known at the time the gravity of his offense.

Several soundings reports were received and ordered filed. In the case of Pilot Morse having failed to sign the report of the July committee, it was ordered that he be excused, he having reported to the vice chairman at the time a reasonable statement of his failure to serve, being detained in Wilmington as a witness in a murder trial.

In the case of Pilot J. F. Arnold, who also failed to sign, it appeared that he could have taken the soundings, as the notice given him was quite sufficient for such preparation, and it was adjudged that he be fined $10 for failure to comply with the regulations, his branch to be suspended pending payment.

In the cases of Pilots O. D. Burriss, H. C. Corlette, J. F. Arnold, J. S. Sellers and J. A. Williams, who failed to sign the report of quarterly soundings, it appeared that O. D. Burriss, H. C. Corlette and J. A. Williams were on leave of absence, on which ground they were excused. Pilots J. F. Arnold and J. S. Sellers, however, were without reasonable excuse, and were ordered fined $10 each, for their failure to comply with the regulations, their function as pilots to be suspended until the fine is paid.

In line with a previous ruling of the board, regarding a certain pilot's alleged inability to serve with a soundings committee on the day appointed, and the permission given to that pilot to take the soundings personally and apart from the others, in lieu of serving with the committee, it was ordered by the Commissioners that hereafter, when pilots are unable to serve with the soundings committee on which they are appointed, on the days named by the chairman of the soundings committee, they shall be allowed to make the soundings personally and separately from the committees, provided they make due report to the board at the next regular meeting, giving in detail the result of their soundings; or, with the sanction of the chairman of the soundings committee (if he is satisfied that their soundings have been properly taken and they agree with those made by his committee) they may sign the regular report of the committee.

Vice Chairman J. W. Harper reported the circumstances and details of an official visit to Wilmington by Light-House Commissioner George R. Putnam, on July 19th, with reference to the placing of the new light-ship at a point near Knuckle Shoal, on which occasion the utmost courtesy and consideration was shown by Commissioner Putnam to the Board of Commissioners and to the Chamber of Commerce. The chairman stated that Senator Overman was entitled to the highest commendation, for his most important service to the port of Wilmington, in his presentation of our claims with respect to the placing of the light-ship at the point designated in the Act of Congress, which prevailed over an adverse decision of the Light-House Board at Washington; and the Wilmington people are assured now that the light-ship will be placed at the point for which it was intended and for the purpose for which it was built, i.e., for the benefit of Wilmington commerce. The clerk was requested to convey to Senator Overman an expression of the board's high appreciation of his faithful representation of this district.

The list of licensed pilot boats was carefully revised by the board, and the licenses of the following, namely: the Mary, No. 5, the Louise, No. 6, the Emma Bell, No. 8, the Etta, No. 9, the Irene No. 11, the Comfort No. 12, the Leah No. 14, and the Tira No. 15, were ordered to be revoked after the expiration of ten days, unless, before the expiration of the ten days, the Commissioners are shown cause why any of those licenses should be continued.

A letter was read from Pilot L. J. Pepper, dated August 29, 1911, reporting the grounding of the steamer "Katherine," while in his charge, on August 27th, but as there was no complaint from the master of the ship, and the pilot appeared not to have been at fault, the letter was ordered filed and the matter closed.

A letter was read from Pilot I. S. Davis, requesting the licensing of his boat "Lorenzo," as a pilot boat. The Commissioners thought it unwise to grant further licenses to boats which, in their opinion, are not entirely seaworthy and competent for the service proposed, and they ruled that in the future they will not license any boats measuring less than 30 feet in length. The application of Pilot I. S. Davis, for the licensing of the "Lorenzo" was therefore refused, this boat measuring only 21 1-2 feet in length.

The clerk was instructed to request Pilot J. A. Williams to show cause why he should not be fined for failure to report his return from a leave of absence which expired on September 26th.

The chairman was requested to communicate with the Light-House Board at Washington, with respect to the appropriation of $21,000, which has now been available for some time, for improved lights on the Cape Fear river, and to enquire if measures are being taken by the Light-House Board for the installation of these lights and when the work is likely to be accomplished.

Commissioner St. George drew the attention of the board to the serious obstruction to navigation by a shoal or shoaling water in Brunswick Cove, a source of continual trouble to pilots, which has been repeatedly complained of to this board and the complaints published, but without relief. It was remarked that the government dredges are now engaged in dredging just below Midnight Shoal, at which place there is much more water than in Brunswick Cove, where the pilots' report of recent soundings shows only about 18 feet of water. The clerk was requested to communicate this information to Captain L. H. Rand, U. S. Engineers at Wilmington, with the request that he give it his official attention, inasmuch as the commerce of the port is increasing daily and further trouble is feared, unless the trouble is promptly remedied.

The clerk was also requested to call to Captain Rand's attention the fact that the constant shoaling of Brunswick Cove, which has been going on for years, appears to justify the repeated suggestion of seafaring men, that a straight cut from Orton Point to the cut opposite Brunswick would, in their opinion, permanently eliminate this obstruction to navigation. It was also stated that Pilot J. W. Craig who perhaps is more familiar with the river than any other pilot, in consequence of his long and constant service thereon, has made strong recommendations to the board, looking to the deepening and straightening of Orton Cove Cut.

Captain E. D. Williams, Harbor Master, submitted correspondence with Captain L. H. Rand, of the U. S. Engineers, on the subject of a shoal spot opposite or just below Kidder's Mill, relief in which case was promptly afforded by the Government dredges.

The Harbor Master also submitted correspondence, dated September 14th, and 18th, with the Superintendent of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, with reference to errors in certain charts respecting Snow's Marsh Cut and the Anchorage Basin.

In connection with the matter of urging upon Captain Rand the importance of immediate attention to the shoal water in Orton Cove, the chairman was requested to invite Captain Rand to sit with the board at its regular monthly meetings, in order that the co-operation of all concerned in the river and harbor work may be assured and cordial relations established.

Vice Chairman Harper requested that the attention of the Superintendent of the Coast and Geodetic Survey be drawn to the fact that a number of dangerous obstructions along the coast, between Wrightsville Beach and the Cape Fear bar, are not charted, one in particular, the wreck of the Blockade Runner "Condor" being fully half a mile from the beach and directly in the track of small craft trading up and down the coast. The wreck is awash at low water, and is a very dangerous obstruction.

There being no other business, the meeting adjourned.

L. BROWN McKOY, Clerk.

GAYLORD'S BIG OPENING HELD

Mammoth Stock of Fall and Winter Styles on Exhibit Yesterday—Millinery and Clothing Displays Beautiful

Lured by the seductive appeal of the festive occasion, hundreds of the fair feminine folk of the city flocked to the Fall and Winter opening of the mammoth Geo. O. Gaylord' Department store and viewed with much admiration and a lavish use of endearing and complimentary adjectives the stupendous new stocks which were on exhibition in the many different departments of the big establishment.

Of course, the millinery department was the center of attraction and came in for the major share of the ladies' attention, but the suit, cloak and fur section and all the others were thronged with visitors all day and the large staff of saleladies were busy from early morning until closing time.

In the millinery department, Miss Brown, the head milliner, who has charge of the work, and her large and capable staff of assistants have been making preparations for weeks and yesterday morning they were ready to admirably handle the large number of visitors who called during the day. The department occupies one section of the second floor and part of the third floor. It was handsomely decorated in a blue and white color scheme with Autumn leaves and grasses tastefully used and adding to its attractiveness. In the department yesterday over 2,500 completed hats were on exhibition, ranging all the way from the most expensive foreign and domestic creations to the more economical hats, and in a most bewildering variety of shapes, styles, colors and trimming effects.

Among the modes represented in the handsome showing are the poke bonnet hats, bobble hats, the Madame Sherry, French models from Crozier, Talbot and Roger, the latest New York patterns, all styles of hoods ranging from the most expensive to the cheapest, besides hundreds of models and styles designed and made in the Gaylord parlors here. All the new trimming effects are included in the display, among them being the willow plumes, Prince tips, the new chennelle trimmings, all styles of fringes, the plain velvet, mirror and uncut velvet as well as a wide range in the new changeable silks much in vogue at the present. Probably every color in the kinetescope are represented and are used with tasteful and pleasing effect. Purple in many different shades is running strong this Fall, and brown is also very popular. The different effects in plain black and white, too, are proving unusually popular at the present and will be among the leaders for the season.

Many of the ladies found the hat they wanted at once and the first day's sales were gratifyingly large. Others have decided on certain trimmings and color effects and have placed their orders.

Aside from the large retail millinery business conducted by the Gaylord store, it also has one of the largest wholesale lines in the State, and keeps two men on the road in the interest of this phase of the business. The immense stock handled is kept on one section of the second floor and part of the third. This is the only wholesale line the Gaylord store carries.

In the suit, coat and fur department, which is under the supervision of Miss Daisy Woodbury, the new models on display were much admired by the many callers. The firm boasts that it carries the largest line of coat suits and ready-to-wear clothing in the city, and the stock is an immense one, but everything is so systematized that all goods are displayed to the best advantage and any suit or cloak, no matter what size, or color, can be reached instantly. Over 100 styles of coat suits are being shown, among them the popular pole suits in the fancy goods, broadcloths, serges and all the newest weaves and designs of the season. The aviation skirt is very popular this season and many of the suits are fitted with these. Among the coats shown are the pole, the two-tone, plush, and caracul, in a great variety of styles, weaves and colors.

A most complete line of ladies' and misses' regulation suits are on display, and the line of children's ready-to-wear clothing is one of the most complete in the city.

The line of furs this Fall is an unusually large one and includes many varieties, among them black lynx, the mink, Isabella fox and all the other popular and fashionable pieces, ranging in price from the lowest to the highest.

Complete lines of new goods are also on display in the many other departments and all of them were inspected by the many callers yesterday. The occasion was a gala one and many words of commendation and praise for the enterprising establishment and its management were heard.

The opening will continue through today and the public and the many friends of the firm are invited to call and inspect its offerings, today or at any other time that may suit their convenience. A most cordial welcome and politest and most courteous attention is assured all, whether the visit is a shopping one or only a tour of inspection.

BOY'S BRIGADE WORK PLANNED

First Reception of the Season Will Be Held Tonight at the Armory—Busy Months Ahead of the Organization

Tonight in the armory of the Boys' Brigade that popular organization will formally inaugurate the new season with its first reception to its friends and from the programme arranged and the preparations being made, a most enjoyable time is assured all who attend.

Mr. B. Frank Brittain, assisted by the members of the social committee, will welcome the guests, who will be given an opportunity to inspect the armory and the improvements that have been made. Col. Walker Taylor will deliver an address in which he will present some interesting facts in connection with the achievements of the Boys' Brigade during the past year.

The complete programme for the evening is as follows:

Selection—"Loves Old Sweet Song" ..... Acme Male Quartete.
Alto-soprano duett—Schubert's "Serenade,, ...Misses Chasten and Ford
Recitation—Selected..... Miss Gracie Craig
Piano Solo—"Grand Minuet" ..... Miss Agnes Chasten
Address.....Col. Walker Taylor
Soprano Solo—"Good Bye," Tosti.. ..... Miss Gertrude Sneed
Ladies Sextette—"Spinning Song, Flying Dutchman, Misses Katie Ford, Agnes Chasten, Jennie Corbett, Elizabeth Schulken, Gracie Craig and Mrs. J. U. King.
Tenor Duet—Selected..... Messrs. Chas Dushan and W. R. Dosher.

The accompanists will be Miss Lillian Taylor, Miss Hattie Gardner and Mrs. M. L. Chasten.

The committee in charge has arranged to entertain several hundred guests, but children cannot be admitted. The hour for the reception is 8:30 o'clock, and the occasion promises to be largely attended.

The first business meeting of the Brigade was held Monday night with a very full attendance of members, with Col. Walker Taylor, the commander, present.

After the routine business had been disposed of, a short address, setting forth the plans for the Fall and Winter work, was made by Mr. Dushan, who laid especial emphasis upon the physical, educational social and religious features as planned for the coming months, urging upon the members the great importance of embracing the rare opportunities presented in all of these departments of the work.

The opportunity to enjoy some artistic and elevating entertainment as presented through the splendid Lyceum course was also mentioned.

Mr. Dushan's remarks aroused much enthusiasm among the members and from the spirit so far manifested the different advantages of the Brigade will be utilized more this year than ever before.

A number have enrolled in the educational classes and more will probably do so during the week. The courses taught will be English and mathematics, with probably a course in book-keeping. The gymnasium classes will have a large enrollment and practically every member of the Brigade will attend the Bible classes.

As illustrating the work the Brigade is accomplishing a few facts contained in the report of the manager for last season are of interest. The armory was in use every day during the year and attendance upon all occasions numbered more than 29,000 persons. The attendance in the gymnasium was more than 3,600 and in the Bible classes was over 2,100. Thirty-five of the members of the Brigade professed conversion and 27 of these united with the church. Situations were secured for 25, the sick members were visited regularly by a committee, nearly 900 books were drawn from the library, classes in English and mathematics and shorthand were conducted and a number of pleasant social affairs were held. Many other important features were conducted, through all of which the members of the Brigade were given unusual opportunities for self-help and improvement.

It is planned to enter upon the work this season with expectations of accomplishing even more good than last year and judging from the interest already manifested it is likely that the hopes of Col. Walker Taylor and Mr. Dushan will be more than realized.

REV. LEVI BRYAN DEAD

Venerable Baptist Minister Passes Away in This City—Funeral

Friends in this city and elsewhere will learn with sorrow of the death of Rev. Levi Bryan, a venerable Baptist minister of this city, who passed away at 7:45 o'clock yesterday morning at his home, No. 17 Princess street. Mr. Bryan had been in failing health for some time and while his death was not unexpected, it came as a shock to family and friends. He was 70 years of age and served valiantly in the Civil War as a member of the Confederate Army, remaining always true to the South and its people. He had spent forty years of his life in the active ministry of the Baptist church and was deeply consecrated to the service of his Lord and Master.

Rev. Mr. Bryan is survived by his wife and five children, three sons and two daughters who have the tenderest sympathy of all in their sorrow. The funeral will be conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the family residence, Rev. W. G. Hall, pastor of Southside Baptist Church, officiating, and the interment will be in Oakdale cemetery. The pall-bearers will be: Messrs. J. A. Munn, W. J. Meredith, H. L. Peterson, John F. Littleton, E. Z. Milton and C. C. Rice.

SANDLIN MUST GO TO CHAIR

Supreme Court Finds No Error in the Trial Below in Case of New Hanover Murderer—Friday, October 13th

Unless the Governor of North Carolina interferes by respite or a commutation of the sentence, L. M. Sandlin, of this city, must pay the death penalty for the murder of his wife in this city last July, the Supreme Court of the State having on yesterday rendered a decision that there was no error in the trial below.

Sandlin is now in the New Hanover jail under sentence to go to the electric chair at the State prison in Raleigh on Friday week, October, 13th, although it is certain that his counsel, L. Clayton Grant and C. D. Weeks, Esqs., will exhaust every effort to save the life of their client and will most likely appeal to the Governor for a respite and perhaps later for a commutation of the sentence, perhaps to life imprisonment.

The case is familiar to the public and the decision was not altogether unexpected, even by Mr. Grant, who argued the case for the condemned man before the Supreme Court only a short time ago. With reference to the case The Star last night received the following telegram from its Raleigh correspondent:

Raleigh, N. C., October 4.—Among twenty-three opinions delivered this afternoon by the Supreme Court, State vs. Sandlin, of New Hanover, is the most notable. This is the case of L. M. Sandlin under sentence to be electrocuted for the murder of his wife in Wilmington. The court finds no error in the trial below. Chief Justice Clark, writing the opinion, holds that the double issue of insanity and guilt was permissible, because it was not prejudicial in this case. He sustains the lower court in the issue as to the eligibility of jurors and sets out that the homicide in any phase of the evidence, if believed by the jury, was murder in the first degree and one of particular atrocity, and that if there was any extenuating circumstance, it did not appear in the record, and, indeed, that there could have hardly been any extenuating circumstance.

DRUM FISHING FINE

Excellent Catches Made Off Seashore Pier Tuesday Night

Tuesday night was a record breaker for the drum fisherman who essay their luck from the steel Pier at the Seashore Hotel, Wrightsville Beach. The big fellows were in a hungry mood and over a dozen were landed by the fortunate disciples of Izaak Walton, some of them among the largest caught this season. Mr. W. A. Davis, fishing with a party of friends, landed eight big ones, the largest of which was exhibited in the city yesterday and attracted much attention. It was 42 inches in length and weighed 26 pounds.

Just about mid-night Mr. J. W. Freeman, another member of the same party, landed probably the largest fish caught during the night. It was 44 inches in length and while not weighed it was probably somewhat heavier than Mr. Davis' largest catch.

A simple but pretty home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. S. W. Holden, No. 109 1-2 Chesnut street last evening at 7:30 o'clock, when his grand-daughter, Miss Sallie Kenyon Ballinger was united in marriage with Mr. Jacob Battle Avant, Rev. Dr. J. H. Foster, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Only the members of the family were present to witness the charming event. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Avant went to The Orton Hotel, and today they will go to Winston-Salem, where they will make their future home. Both young people have a wide circle of friends in the city who will regret to see them leave Wilmington, but will wish for them every measure of success and happiness in their new home.

PRETTY MORNING SERVICE UNITES POPULAR COUPLE.

Quiet, but withal very pretty and impressive, the marriage yesterday morning of Mr. Lawrence Grady Jordan and Miss Olive Pierson Thompson, was of much pleasurable interest to a host of friends in Wilmington and elsewhere. The ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Thompson, at Lingo Heights, which was most attractively decorated with ferns, golden rod and a profusion of wild flowers, most artistically and effectively arranged, the color scheme being white and yellow. Many friends had gathered at the home to witness the pretty ceremony which was impressively performed by the Rev. J. S. Crowley, pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian Church, in the absence of Rev. J. M. Wells, D. D., who is absent from the city.

The wedding marches were played very prettily by Miss Nell Thompson, the bridal chorus from Lohengrin having been used as the processional. The only attendants of the bride and groom were Miss Hannah Dodd, of Rehobeth, Del., a friend of the bride, with Mr. Paul R. Jordan, brother of the groom, and Miss May Donovan, of Lewes, Del., and Mr. William Edward Thompson, of Davidson College, a brother of the bride. The bride was beautiful in a wedding gown of white with bouquet of white roses, while the bridesmaids wore white and yellow figured costumes and carried bouquets of bride's roses.

After the ceremony the bride and groom received the hasty congratulations of their friends just before their departure for the city, where they took their departure on the northbound Atlantic Coast Line train at 8:40 o'clock for a wedding trip to Richmond, Washington, Philadelphia and the former home of the bride at Lewes, Del. They will be at home after October 21st, at No. 120 North Eighth street, the groom being one of the popular clerks in the Wilmington postoffice.

The bride is a young woman of rare accomplishments and numbers her friends by the circle of her acquaintance. The family have resided in the city but a comparatively short time, but during that time the bride has made by her many charms of person and manner a host of friends who will be delighted to welcome her as Mrs. Jordan. Both the bride and groom have the very best wishes of a host of friends in Wilmington and elsewhere.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

—Mr. David Gurganus, of Ivanhoe, was making business calls in the city yesterday.

—Master Edward Gillerlain left yesterday for Belmont, where he will enter St. Leo's School.

—Mr. Charles Corbett, of Ivanhoe, returned to his home yesterday after a few days in the city.

—Mr. W. M. Thompson, of Jacksonville, N. C., was among the early morning arrivals at The Orton yesterday.

—Mr. C. H. Fore has returned from New York, where he purchased Fall and Winter stock for C. H. Fore & Co.

—Among yesterday's arrivals at The Orton were G. W. Howell, Gastonia, and J. W. Coppedge, Greensboro.

—Mr. W. L. Robbins, of Phoenix, the well known Peters Cartridge salesman, was among last evening's arrivals at The Orton.

—Yesterday afternoon's Fayetteville Observer says: "Miss Mary Hubbard has returned from Southport, Wilmington and Atkinson, after spending six weeks pleasantly.

—Mr. L. Hanson, Jr., of the Spiritine Chemical Company, left last night to call on some of the company's larger customers in the East. He will be away for several weeks.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Sailor Fined for Contempt—Other Cases Tried Yesterday.

Following the imposition of a fine of $10 and costs in the Recorder's court yesterday morning for being drunk and down on the streets the night before, George Ford, a white sailor on one of the steamers now in port, became peeved and "sassed" the court, thereby drawing upon himself the judgment of a sentence of 10 days on the county roads for contempt of court. Later the decision was changed to an added fine of $15 and costs or 10 days on the roads. Ford was very insolent and slurring in his remarks, offering among other things some free and unasked for—to say nothing of unappreciated—advice as to how a court should be conducted. His ideas of legal etiquette in police courts evidently did not concur with those now in vogue in New Hanover county and the Recorder was not slow in making the fact clear to the hardy tar.

"Coon" Brown, colored, who was brought back to this city by Deputy Sheriff Harvey Cox from Newbern last week on a charge of storebreaking, was brought into court yesterday morning, and as the evidence was not sufficient to warrant a conviction a nol pros was taken in the case. "Coon" was alleged to have entered the grocery store of Baggett Bros., and appropriated a number of groceries, smoking materials and other goods, but it could not be proved and the State was forced to take a nol pros.

Mary Christmas and Lillian Bryant, two inhabitants of the underworld, were tried along with J. H. Thompson, white, on charges of disorderly conduct. They were found guilty and were assessed $5 and costs each.

Clarence Williams, colored, was tried on a charge of the larceny of $23.75 in the coin of the realm from a son of Athens, who signs his checks "A. Kazakides." The case was dismissed for want of probable cause.

Several ordinary and unvarnished drunks were taxed the usual amount.

COMMITMENT FOR TYSDAL

Convicted Prisoners Will Likely Be Taken to Raleigh Soon

A commitment has been received at the Sheriff's office for James Tysdal, colored, who was convicted at a special term of court in Pender county some time ago and sentenced to serve 15 years in the State penitentiary for complicity with Dick Gause in the murder of another negro. Gause was sentenced to be electrocuted, but the sentence was commuted to life imprisonment about 10 days ago and he is now in the State penitentiary at Raleigh. It will be remembered that the case was moved from this county to Pender by Judge Peebles, on affidavit of the solicitor that the State could not get justice here.

The commitment for Tysdal was from J. F. Johnson, clerk of the Pender county Superior Court, and stated that Sheriff W. R. Atkinson desired that Tysdal be sent to Raleigh with the prisoners that were convicted at the recent term of Superior Court here. It is likely that he and Sol Davis, who was sentenced to 20 years imprisonment for the murder of another negro, in the Superior Court here last week, and L. M. Sandlin, who was convicted of the murder of his wife some time ago and sentenced to the electric chair, and whom the Supreme Court refused to grant a new trial, will probably be taken to Raleigh today or tomorrow.

How to Keep Hair Soft and Beautiful

(Jane Tyrel, on Beauty.)

"Too much moisture saps the life of scalp tissues and hair-roots, causing an excessive oily condition or a dry, harsh, dandruff-laden scalp and dull, 'stringy' brittle, falling hair.

"The most delightful results imaginable can be obtained if a dry shampoo mixture is brushed through the hair once or twice each week. A thoroughly reliable preparation can be made at little cost by mixing either 4 ounces orris root or corn meal with 4 ounces therox. One tablespoonful is enough for a shampoo. After using this a few times the scalp is put in a healthy condition and the hair takes on a soft fluffiness, and regains its rich lustre and natural color."

LOCAL DELEGATES GO TODAY

Will Attend Bi-Ennial Convention of German-American Alliance—North Carolina Branch Well Represented.

Friday morning in Washington, D. C., the German-American National Alliance will convene in bi-ennial convention and on this occasion the North Carolina Branch of the organization will be well represented. The convention will be in session three days, October 6th to October 9th, inclusive, and a most interesting programme will be carried out.

The delegates from this city, who will leave on the 7 o'clock train, are as follows: Messrs. J. G. L. Gieschen, A. D. Wessell, F. W. Richter, J. D. Dosher, Jr., W. B. Schuler, M. Schnibben, J. H. Niggel E. F. O. Banck, J. W. H. Fuchs, J. Schad and M. G. Tiencken, president of the North Carolina branch of the German-American National Alliance. The North Carolina delegation is composed entirely of Wilmington men. In addition to the delegates, there will be a number of ladies who go from here.

The convention opens Friday morning at 9 o'clock and the opening session will last until 1 P. M. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon a visit will be made to Washington's tomb, at Mt. Vernon, Va., and a celebration of German Day will be held at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Saturday a session will be held from 9 A. M. until 1 P. M., and at 3 o'clock a visit will be made to the White House. At 8 P. M. a banquet will be served the convention in the New Willard Hotel.

From 2 to 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon a visit will be made to the Congressional Library, the Capitol and other points of interest in the city, and from 4:30 to 8:30 a session of the convention will be held.

On Monday the closing events of the convention will take place. A business session will be held from 9 A. M. to 1 P. M. and at 3 P. M. a trolley trip will be made to Arlington cemetery and Fort Meyer. At 8 P. M. a social session will be held, bringing to a close the convention.

Mr. M. G. Tiencken, president of the North Carolina branch, will visit New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Richmond before returning to the city. While on the trip he will purchase the Fall and Winter stock for his dry goods establishment on Castle street. He will probably return to the city on Monday, October 16th. Mr. Tiencken was granted leave of absence at the regular meeting of the City Council, of which he is a member, which was held Tuesday.

The delegates and those who will go from this city are expecting a most enjoyable time at the convention and are looking forward to it with much pleasure.

LOCAL DOTS.

—In a communication to the chief of police here Mr. G. G. McDaniel, of Fayetteville asks the officers to keep watch for a bicycle which he rented to a stranger and which was not returned. The wheel is a National, No. 66,712. He offers a reward its recovery.

—With the exception of a few who are believed to have left the county, capiases for all those who were indicted by the last grand jury for violation of the State prohibition law have been served through the office of Sheriff Cowan. The number of indictments all told was 63.

—Mr. Geo. W. Trask, who lives on the Castle Haynes road a short distance from the city, has reported that two valuable mules belonging to him are missing. He thinks that the animals have wandered away from his truck farm and does not believe they were stolen. It is likely that the animals will be recovered soon.

THEATRICAL

a ball. Secret service men are on the watch. It won't do to darken a single room by lowering the window shades while all the rest of the house is illuminated. So the five culprits seat themselves around a card table in plain view from outside, and go through the motions of poker while really discussing their bank dilema. The device fools the spies, but it doesn't mislead those financial gamblers into any illusion of safety.

At the Bijou

Another one of those crisp and bright bills that appeal so strongly to amusement lovers will be served up in dainty style by the popular Bijou today. It will be a programme fraught with the most sparkling fun and the most intense of the dramatic. In the latter class may be mentioned "A Tennessee Love Story." Another big photo-play is "His Stubborn Way" and it is a big laugh producer. It shows how an old-know-it-all man is bested by his wife and the young folks. All the other films for today are stars and the new musical programme is a corker.

At the Grand

The Grand has a particularly attractive bill for its patrons today and one that should certainly serve to attract the crowds. "Too Many Burglars," a comedy film, will be one of the offerings in motion pictures while another will be a great Pathe Weekly of current topics which will include President Taft and Gen. Fred D. Grant reviewing the National G. A. R. Parade at Rochester, N. Y., the great Elgin motor race at Chicago, Ill., Kaiser Wilheim II heading the Flag Bearers' Company, Aviator Atwood resuming his flight from St. Louis to New York; wreck of the Lehigh Valley train near Manchester, N. Y., water jousting tilts on the Rhine, wreck of the New Haven & Hartford train from Sabrook and several others. Nat Hilt will sing the Italian dialect song, "Sweeta Marie Makea Ragtime A-Dance."

The New Lyric

Today is "change day" at the ever-popular Lyric, and the patorns may expect some pleasant surprises when the curtain rolls up this afternoon and tonight. It will be noticed at once that there is a big improvement in the films presented, as this house is using only the high-class licensed films. Today's programme will be headed by a big Lubin comedy film, followed by a Kalem production unfolding a touching and beautiful love story. Of course, the vaudevillians will be on with new acts that will please even better than the first of the week and "that orchestra" will dish melodies appropriate to the occasion at all times. Remember the price has been sliced down to 5 cents and 10 cents.

Death of Mrs. Mary J. Bender

Mrs. Mary J. Bender died at the James Walker Memorial Hospital early yesterday morning of heart failure, following a short illness. Mrs. Bender, was about 70 years of age, was taken to the hospital Tuesday evening, and everything possible was done to save her life, but without success. She was a widow and is survived by several children. The funeral will be held this morning at Middle Sound.

Stops a Deep-Seated Cough in a Hurry

A Family Supply of Unequaled Cough Remedy for 50c—Money Refunded if It Fails.

Cough medicines, as a rule, contain a large proportion of plain syrup—a good ingredient, but one that anyone can make. A pint of granulated sugar, with ½ pint of warm water, stirred for 2 minutes, gives you as good syrup as money can buy.

A 50-cent bottle of Pinex, mixed in a pint bottle with home-made sugar syrup, gives you a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-mixed for $2.50. There's a clear saving of $2.00. Full directions in package.

And money couldn't buy a quicker, better remedy. Takes hold at once, gives almost instant relief, and usually stops the most obstinate, deep-seated cough in 24 hours. It stimulates the appetite, is slightly laxative and has a pleasant taste—children take it willingly. Splendid for hoarseness, asthma, chest pains, and other throat troubles, and unequaled for prompt results in whooping cough.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of imported Norway White Pine extract, and is rich in guaiacol and other natural healing pine elements. Simply mix it as directed with sugar syrup or strained honey, and it is ready for use.

Used in more homes in the U. S. and Canada than any other cough remedy.

Pinex has often been imitated, but never successfully, for nothing else will produce the same results. The genuine is guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. Certificate of guarantee is wrapped in each package. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Fort Wayne, Ind.

Proposals for the Erection of a State Building at Raleigh.

The North Carolina State Building Commission invites proposals for the erection of a State Building at Raleigh, North Carolina, to be approximately 60x195 feet, 4 stories in height, reinforced concrete construction with exterior of stone, brick and terra cotta.

All proposals must be directed to Mr. Ashley Horne, Chairman State Building Commission, care of State Auditor's Office, Raleigh, N. C., and be delivered not later than one o'clock P. M. on November 1, 1911. Each proposal must be accompanied by certified check in the amount of $5,000 payable to the Chairman of the Commission, check to be forfeited in the event of bidder failing or refusing to enter into contract if same is awarded to him. A copy of the plans and specifications will be sent express collect upon application to P. Thornton Marye, architect, 1405 Candler Building, Atlanta, Ga., and upon payment of eight dollars to cover cost of blue printing, or may be seen at the office of Frank P. Simpson, associated architect, Raleigh, N. C.

ASHLEY HORNE, Chairman.

Malaria

Most people who suffer from malaria, are not confined to bed much, if at all. It's a tenacious, irritating ailment that keeps one half sick, half well. Not sick enough to go to bed and stay there; not well enough to be fit for work or social pleasures.

KETTERER'S Excelsior BLOOD PURIFIER (K. E. B. P.)

has been found to cure malaria more effectively than any remedy we know of. Malarial symptoms, chills and fever, are due to poison in the blood. Quinine breaks up malaria, but does not always cure permanently. Ketterer's Excelsior Blood Purifier destroys the poison, enriches the blood and usually effects a permanent cure, and in a natural manner, by removing the cause.

K. E. B. P. is sold by your druggist under a guarantee to help you or refund your money.

COTTON MARKET LESS ACTIVE

Fluctuations More or Less Irregular and Tone Nervous, With Close Steady, at Net Advance of Several Points

New York, October 4.—The cotton market was less active today, but while fluctuations were more or less irregular and the tone rather nervous, the ruling of prices was steadier, in the main, and the close was very steady, at a net advance of 7@11 points.

The market opened steady, at an advance of 6@11 points, in response to better cables than looked for, reports that the South was offering spots less freely in Liverpool, and talk of a better business in cotton goods at Manchester. Overnight selling orders from the South were rather heavy, and the market eased off after the opening, under the pressure from this source, and reselling by some of yesterday's early buyers, but after showing a net loss of from 1 to 3 points during the middle of the day, prices firmed up again on a more active demand. Shorts and trade buying which seemed to be inspired by reports of steadier spot markets in the South, predictions of colder weather and possibility of increased nervousness with the approach of the frost period. Active months sold about 11 to 12 points net higher late in the day, and closed within a point or two of the best. Immediate weather conditions were considered general and favorable in the South.

Private advices from several points in the interior reported a steady feeling in the spot situation, and with the Southern spot markets officially reported unchanged to ⅛ higher, the improvement in this direction appeared to be the chief factor of the day's advance. Many of those who were talking of a rally, however, expressed continued confidence in ultimate lower prices and a feeling that an advance will be but temporary.

Receipts today, 60,881 bales, against 65,208 last week, and 51,280 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 5,300 bales, against 5,171 last year, and at Houston, 22,934 bales, against 17,298 last year.

Spot closed quiet; middling uplands, 10.20; do. gulf, 10.45; no sales.

Futures closed steady.

THE DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, Oct. 4.—Cotton goods in secondary markets are held steady and there is little change in values noted in the coarse end, where prices had already discounted low cotton values. Worsted yarns are in better demand, and leading spinners are now fairly busy. Underwear and hosiery lines are selling irregularly, some mills being well supplied with business, and others finding trade hard. Jobbers are doing a moderate house trade.

IRREGULAR DAY FOR STOCKS

Elements of Reaction Were Again Conspicuous—Market Failed to Develop a Definite Trend—Lower at Close

New York, Oct. 4.—Further irregularity prevailed today in the stock market, which failed to develop a definite trend. The elements of reaction were again conspicuous. Room traders and speculators as a class favored the short side of the market and superficially at least the operations suggested the diminution of the demand for bear covering had not been followed by any real buying. Opening prices were irregular. Within the first few minutes the market fell off materially and during the morning ranged well below yesterday's final quotations. U. S. Steel sold off nearly two points and some of the standard railroad issues almost as much. In the afternoon the market slowly recovered, only to fall back toward the close.

The pressure against St. Paul was continued, and this stock fell below 1.06 for acute weakness of this issue, which has given rise to conjectures as to the stability of the dividend rate, was partially explained by the appearance of the August report of the road. It showed a decrease of more than $300,000 in gross receipts and $459,000 in the net.

Western Union made the most conspicuous gain, and it was reported that the stock soon will be placed on a 4 per cent. dividend basis. Canadian Pacific responded to brisk buying which was said to be for foreign account. Atchison, Northern Pacific and New York Central were firm, reflecting their recent reports of earnings. Further reduction of prices of various steel products emphasized the unsettled conditions in that industry. Prices of some products have reached the low point of the last decade. Statistics of pig iron production in September, which were received today, made a favorable showing, the rate of daily production having increased from 62,150 tons in August to 65,900 last month.

Suspension of increased cattle freight rates in the West, the bitterness of the struggle in the railway strike on the Harriman lines, and opposition to the reorganization plans of the American Tobacco Company probably were factors in the stock market's unsettlement.

American Tobacco bonds were heavy, though subsequently recovering. The general bond market was irregular and fluctuations were narrow. Total sales, par value, $2,560,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales for the day were 506,000 shares.

are unwilling to take office, as they do not wish to assume responsibility for recent events, while the elder statesmen refuse to undertake the task of government unless the government retires and dissolves. A deadlock practically has been reached and the only solution to serve the best interests of the country is held to be dissolution of the committee and the ending of the war without delay on the best terms obtainable.

Rome, via Frontier, Oct. 4.—All reports that the bombardments of Tripoli are causing great destruction must be discredited, it is announced here, until given official confirmation. The three admirals responsible for the blockade have instructions to avoid unnecessary damage and limit their action to silencing the Turkish batteries and forcing the garrison to surrender or evacuate.

In cautioning the fleet commanders the ministry of marine told the officers to remember that the provinces were about to pass under Italian control and the more damage done, the greater would be the expense of repair later.

A message from Admiral Thaon Di Revel says that the action appeared more like a shooting competition than a bombardment. Officers and sailors placed wagers on the results. In one instance an order was given to dismantle a particular battery. One gunner was heard to say: "I bet I can knock down the left turret at the first shot."

When the smoke had cleared away the turret had disappeared. The same voice spoke again: "Now the right turret." In a flash the second mark was in ruins.

Has Tripoli Surrendered.

London, October 4.—The Italian fleet bombarded Tripoli Tuesday and Wednesday, destroying the forts and the Vali's palace, but taking care to injure the town itself as little as possible. The Turkish gunners actively returned the fire, but already completely outranged. Information is incomplete as to whether the Turks suffered casualties or whether Tripoli has surrendered.

It is reported from Rome that negotiations for the surrender of Tripoli will be entered into tomorrow. It is also uncertain whether any Italians landed, but the first contingent of the expeditionary force has left Italy, and according to Malta reports the occupation of Tripoli will begin Thursday or Friday, by the landing of contingents from the warships.

The post office and the Italian consulate at Malta are accepting mails for Tripoli, and the consul has promised newspaper correspondents that they will be allowed to land in Tripoli Friday.

While Italy is thus carrying out the programme of establishing herself in Tripoli, the Turkish government in in a helpless tangle. The ministry is virtually non-existent, dissenisons between the Young Turks and the men of the older regime rendering the adoption of any definite line of policy impossible.

For the moment, all talk of mediation or peace negotiations has been relegated to the background.

London, Oct. 4.—A news agency despatch from Vienna says it is reported from Constantinople that Italian squadron had bombarded and occupied Mytilene, capital of the Island of Lesbos, in the Agrarian Archipelago, belonging to Turkey.

Maneuvers of the Fleet.

Milan, Oct. 4.—The Secolo publishes an account of the maneuvers of the Italian squadron before Tripoli when the bombardment began. The dispatch is sent by Deputy Defilice, who was aboard the torpedo cruiser Coatit.

All the consulates in Tripoli hoisted their flags. The ships formed in line before the forts—the flagship Benedetto Brin followed by the battleships Roma, Napoli, Sicilia, the armored cruisers Gieuseppe Garibaldi, Francesco Ferrucio, Pisa, Amalfi, the battleship Sardegna and the torpedo cruiser Coatit.

Torpedo boat destroyers circulated between the fleet and the coast, others outside the fleet protected it from possible attacks from the rear in case some torpedo boats having escaped from the chase of the Italians might audaciously attempt to sink them.

A line of warships of Italy stretches between Tripoli and the Tunisan frontier on one side and from Benghazi to the Bombah gulf up to the Egyptian frontier on the other. From there and Derna, another line of ships extends northward to face any attack from Turkish ships. A torpedo flotilla commanded by the Duke of the Abruzzi patrols the sea from Crete around Greece to the Ionian and the Adriatic seas. Thus the squadron operating before Tripoli is protected from all sides.

Drawn up in war array the squadron had an imposing and formidable aspect. With the sailors at their posts and with the guncrews at their guns, the signal for the attack was awaited with breathless anxiety. Suddenly the flagship signalled "hoist full bunting" and the fleet transport into ships of peace, in their dress of flags and bunting, steamed slowly past Tripoli, as if in review. It was the last attempt of Admiral Aubrey to show his forces to the enemy, that they might be induced to surrender.

But the Turks refused to accede. The ships returned and several of them formed in battle line. The cannonade began against the forts, the barracks and the palace of the governor, while officers with telescopes watched the shells falling into Tripoli.

S THE WORLD GROWING BETTER?

Many things go to prove that it is. The way thousands are trying to help others is proof. Among them is Mrs. W. W. Gould, of Pittsfield, N. H. Finding good health by taking Electric Bitters, she now advises other sufferers, everywhere, to take them. "For years I suffered with stomach and kidney trouble," she writes. "Every medicine I used failed till I took Electric Bitters. But this great remedy helped me wonderfully." They'll help any woman. They're the best tonic and finest liver and kidney remedy that's made. Try them. You'll see. 50c at R. R. Bellamy's.

WANTED FOR INCEST.

Durham County Man Arrested in Florida—Shocking Case.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Durham, N. C., Oct. 4.—Notice was received here Monday night of the arrest in Walton county, Florida, of one F. F. Farmer, a well known white man who formerly resided in this place, who is wanted here for incest.

About 20 years ago, during his residence in East Durham, Farmer married a well known young woman of the county, and lived with her only about one year, deserting her just after a child was born. For about 18 years after that, nothing was heard of the fellow, but all the while the beautiful child was being reared by its mother, and grew to be a handsome young woman. In March of last year, Farmer again made his appearance in Durham, sought out his wife and began to live with her, the daughter all the time living in the family. A few months after, Farmer ran away with his daughter, after committing incest, and the two took up their residence in Georgia, as man and wife, Farmer living under an assumed name of W. H. Warren. There he lived with his daughter for three or four months, and then deserted her, leaving her to get back to North Carolina as best she could. She took up her residence with her uncle in Johnson county, where in a short while a child was born, and the father of the child was also its grandfather.

The child and its mother are still living, the mother being employed at Chapel Hill, where she works for a living for them both.

Upon the birth of the child complaint was made to the Durham officers, and the matter was taken up and investigated. The search for Farmer has been kept up for several months, and he has been chased up and down several States, finally being taken into custody in Florida last Monday. Officer Williams left yesterday morning for Raleigh, where he will secure the signature of Governor Kitchin to the requisition papers, and he left immediately for Florida. He will stop at Tallahassee and secure the signature of the Governor of Florida.

It has been learned recently that Farmer has been married a number of times since leaving Durham. A divorce proceeding is pending against him in Florida now, and that led to his arrest on this charge. He will be tried in the Durham Superior Court upon his return on the charge of incest, and later perhaps for bigamy. The penalty for incest was fixed by the last Legislature at 15 years, but as this crime was committed before the law was passed, it can be only five years.

NEEDS OF CHRISTIAN LEADERS.

For Facing Criticism and Social Unrest in the Churches.

Toronto, October 4.—True brotherhood, militant optimistic, broader tolerance and work genuinely co-operative are the needs of Christian leaders in facing modern criticism and social unrest, declared the Rev. Henry Haigh, of London, president of the British Wesleyan conference at the opening of the fourth ecumenican or world's Methodist conference here today.

Dr. Haigh had taken as his text the words, "The Harvest Truly is Plenteous, but the Laborers Are Few," although, as was pointed out, his audience included 400 delegates from all quarters of the globe who represented 100,000 pulpits, about 9,000,000 communicants and nearly 30,000,000 denominational adherents. The laborers were few in view of the harvest opportunities, he said.

"Pessimism thins the ranks of the workers," he continued. "They think they have fallen on bad days because of sinister results of modern criticism and social unrest. This criticism should be looked at optimistically, as being the essense of science. When men have finished their investigations we will find them nearer the truth and Him who said: "I am the Truth. If criticism can destroy Jesus Christ let him be destroyed. But Christ cannot be destroyed."

Addresses of welcome to delegates from across the seas and responses by them occupied the greater part of today's sessions. Notable among the addresses was that of Sir Robert Perks, of London, who urged upon Methodists of all the world to follow the example of John Wesley." He was an up-to-date reformer. He did not limit his appeal to one class He sought not only the masses but the cultured and the leisurely. We should do likewise."

Bishop E. E. Hoss, of Nashville, Tenn., feared some Canadian Methodists might think those in the United States had looked upon the Dominion with too longing eyes. But we have, quite recently, a very plain lesson on the subject of annexation." "What American Methodists wish for Canadians, as for themselves, is that all shall be enmesned in a broad web of Christian love.

Makes Rough Skin Soft and Velvety

(Welcome Friend.)

Much interest is centered on a mayatone lotion for the correction of complexion faults, and giving to the skin that soft, velvety, pink and white bloom of healthy maidenhood. With the aid of this lotion, wrinkles and blotches are banished, the skin is freed of pimples and blackheads, and a complexion once sallow and unlifelike is given that natural health-glow and freshness so much admired.

This lotion, which is inexpensive, is made by dissolving an original package of mayatone in eight ounces of witch-hazel. With it the face, neck and arms are gently massaged each day and soon the skin grows clear, firm and beautiful. The mayatone lotion is greaseless and will prevent, as well as discourage, hairy growths.

PRESIDENT LYNCH CONFIDENT

Head of National League Talks of the Prospects of Winning in World's Championship Baseball Series

New York, October 4.—Mere luck in at least one instance will be a factor in the world's championship baseball series. The toss of a coin here tomorrow will determine whether the opening games of the series will be played on the Polo Grounds here or on the grounds of the world's champions of 1910 at Philadelphia. The choice in the toss up will be between President Thomas J. Lynch, of the National League, and Ban Johnson, the American League president.

By New York's clinching the National League championship today the way is cleared for definite arrangements for the world series and plans will be finally drawn up at a meeting of the National Commission here tomorrow. Chairman August Herrmann, of Cincinnati, Ban Johnson, of Chicago, the American League president, and President Shibe, of the Philadelphia club, and Brush, of the New York club, are expected to attend the conference.

President Lynch, the only member of the commission here tonight, said nothing more definite could be announced as to dates than that the games would not be played until at least two days after the close of the National League season on October 12th.

Unless some unforseen hitch arises the schedule of games, arrangements for the sale of tickets, prices and other details will be announced officially tomorrow night, said President Lynch.

"It is a splendid season we are ending," President Lynch added, in commenting on the National League pennant race. "It has been one of the closest races in the history of the league. McGraw's men made a grand record on the road during the past few weeks. If Brooklyn and Cincinnati had not disappointed us the league fight would have been the greatest in the history of baseball. We need only one thing now and that is the world's championship. I haven't the slightest doubt about the outcome.

FAVORS DIRECT ELECTION.

Rhode Island Democrats Recommend Vote by People for Senators.

Providence, R. I., Oct. 4.—Despite some expressions of dissatisfaction prior to the Democratic State convention here today by delegates who did not like the idea of having the State Central Committee draw up a ticket of State officers, this ticket was adopted by the convention. The nominee for governor, Lewis A. Waterman, of Providence, also led the party last year. The other nominees are:

Lieut. Gov., Alberic A. Archambault, of Warwick; secretary of State, Sayles D. Steere, of Gloucester; attorney general, James A. Gahill, of East Providence; general treasurer, Albert M. Steinert, of Providence.

Averts Awful Tragedy.

Timely advice given Mrs. C. Willoughby, of Marengo, Wis., (R. No. 1) prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. Doctors had said her frightful cough was a "consumption" cough and could do little to help her. After many remedies failed, her aunt urged her to take Dr. King's New Discovery. "I have been using it for some time," she wrote, "and the awful cough has almost gone. It also saved my little boy when taken with a severe bronchial trouble." This matchless medicine has no equal for throat and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy.

HELPFUL WORDS

From a Wilmington Citizen.

Is your back lame and painful?
Does it ache especially after exertion?
Is there a soreness in the kidney region?
These symptoms indicate weak kidneys;
There is danger in delay.
Weak kidneys fast get weaker.
Give your trouble prompt attention.
Doan's Kidney Pills act quickly,
They strengthen weak kidneys.
Read this Wilmington testimony.

Miss Mattie Hodges, 609 S. Fifth St., Wilmington, N. C., says: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills just as strongly today as I did two years ago, when I publicly told of my experience with them. Doan's Kidney Pills were procured from Bellamy's Drug Store and they gave me more relief from kidney trouble than any other medicine I had ever taken. I have since been well and my kidneys and back have not troubled me."

DR. SNYDER'S ADDRESS.

Feature of Benefactors' Day Exercises at Trinity College.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Trinity College, Durham, N. C., Oct. 4.—Benefactors' Day was observed at Trinity yesterday. The event of the day was the address last night by Dr. Henry N. Snyder, president of Wofford College, Spartanburg, S. C. A good sized audience gathered in Craven Memorial Hall for the occasion, and the speech was one of the best efforts of the famous speaker and educator. His theme was "The Human Ideal in Education."

EXPERT TIRE REPAIRING

Our facilities for repairing tires are the very best. Our plant is equipped with every modern appliance and we employ only workmen who have had years of experience in tire repairing and building. We use only the highest grade materials and put a most liberal guarantee on all our work.

Send your old casings and tubes to us. We will carefully examine and give you an estimate of the cost of repairing.

OUR GUARANTEE:—We guarantee repairs made by us to last as long as the balance of the tire. Any work that fails to meet this guarantee will be done over without charge.
